

10 MORE 'STORM TROOPERS' REPORTED SLAIN; HINDENBURG'S ILLNESS ACCENTUATES CRISIS

MAN SLAYS FOUR WHO BROKE SLEEP WITH LATE PARTY

Michigan Village Scene of Unusual Tragedy as Father-in-Law of Host Kills Sheriff, Doctor and Two Others.

MAN SURRENDERS FOLLOWING CRIME

Murderer Enters Room and Shoots Down Three Without Warning; Officer Killed Later.

EAST TAWAS, Mich., July 1.—(AP)—Sheriff Charles C. Miller and three guests at a house party in the Arthur Janson home here were shot to death early this morning by Arthur A. Woods, 52, Janson's father-in-law, who complained that the noise of the party disturbed his sleep.

Woods surrendered to local county authorities at Tawas City after the shooting.

The dead besides Sheriff Miller were Dr. Stanley Somers, of East Tawas, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hayes. Roy Hickey, also a guest, was wounded.

Police said the shooting occurred about 3 a. m.

Had Complained.

Woods resided with his daughter and son-in-law. Authorities said he complained to the guests about the noise interfering with his sleep, and that without warning, he walked into the room where they were gathered and opened fire with an automatic rifle.

Dr. Somers was killed instantly.

Hayes and his wife died in a hospital later. Sheriff Miller was fatally wounded as he met Woods at the rear door of the Janson home.

As Woods aimed his rifle at the sheriff, the officer drew his own gun and emptied it at the slayer, without effect.

Woods fired once at the sheriff, the bullet striking in the chest.

The sheriff died en route to the hospital.

Gathered Children.

Calmly, Woods gathered the Janson home where his victims were still sprawled on the floor, gathered up his two grandchildren and took them to the home of a neighbor.

Then he returned to the Janson home and surrendered to the sheriff's deputies, telling them of the killings.

Dr. Somers, a graduate of the University of Michigan, was a prominent physician in this county. He is survived by his widow and one child.

Two Hayes children were orphaned by the shooting, while Sheriff Miller is survived by his widow and three children.

Atlanta Man Missing, Wife Fears Foul Play

Missing since 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Dr. W. G. Halford, 35, of 1049 Juniper street, N. E., was being sought Sunday by his wife, who fears he has been kidnapped and robbed. Atlanta police were notified Sunday and asked to keep a lookout for Halford, who is a pharmacist in a College Park drug store. He has not been seen since he left the store Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Halford said he was carrying a large sum of money with him and she is afraid he was waylaid and abducted by bandits. He has never before failed to come home on schedule, she said.

Halford was described as being 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighing 140 pounds, and wearing a brown suit, black shoes and a white Panama hat. He is brunet with dark brown hair and eyes. Information concerning Halford should be phoned Mrs. Halford, who is prostrated over her husband's absence, at Hemlock 8357-W.

The News at a Glance

Clip this each day and make your scrapbook a thumbnail history. July 2, 1934.

LOCAL:

Civic groups to gather today and plan drive for increased registration in city.

Handsomeness new postoffice building will be opened to public today, Page 2.

MACON—Dr. O. C. Gibson, physician, assumes responsibility for obtaining pardon for Sam Knowles; says Stewart had nothing to do with case, Page 7.

C. C. Mason, 43-year-old Atlanta, killed and four others injured in crash near Baxley; many persons hurt in accidents here, Page 1.

Cold storage plant on West Peachtree street wrecked by terrific explosion which rocks adjoining buildings, Page 7.

Battle slated in council today on pay hike paper vetoed by Mayor Key; Almond to lead fight to override, Page 8.

DOMESTIC:

WASHINGTON—Darrow board charges nothing done to "remove or restrain" NRA code monopolistic practices, Page 1.

Bewildered Germans Uneasy Under Sharp Eyes of Police

Sunday Beer Drunk in Atmosphere of Tension With Few Having Full Realization of What Is Transpiring.

By MELVIN K. WHITELEATHER, American college cheer sections—

(Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press.)

BERLIN, July 1.—(AP)—Berlin drank its Sunday beer today in the tensest atmosphere since the Nazi government came into power in January, 1933.

Thousands of uneasy, restless and hatless Germans, with only an inkling of the tragic events which transpired behind the censorship screen, milled through historic Wilhelmstrasse from early morning until late tonight under the sharp eyes of the police.

The strollers paused ever and anon before the Reich chancellery residence, hoping to get a glimpse of the one man in the Reich who knows all about what is going on.

Just around the corner in a building abutting the chancellery, Vice Chancellor Franz von Papen watched the procession as Hitler's prisoner, under orders "not to leave home without permission."

Reichswehr detachments marched with rifle and drum in an obvious effort to demonstrate to the people that they still have an army, and one detachment paraded before Hitler.

When he came out to salute the soldiers, the crowd had its only view of the leader of the day.

Heckler, perfectly-timed cries of "Heil! Heil!"—after the manner of American college cheer sections—greeted him.

The troop details which yesterday were on the outskirts of the city ready to rush in and take any action necessary were nowhere in evidence.

Withal, however, the feeling of uncertainty over what tomorrow will bring failed to interfere with typical German Sunday of thousands of men, women and children.

The surrounding lake country beckoned, and overhauled Berlin was deserted by thousands of holiday seekers who jammed the railroad stations.

Many apparently knew nothing of the tragic events involved in the Nazi "house cleaning."

Those who had read the official communiques in the newspapers preferred not to discuss them until they had made sure that there were no government agents in the restaurant or railroad station where they happened to be.

Some remarked that they did not have to worry as long as they placed their faith in Hitler. "A man who knows what he wants."

"They wanted to set up a monarch, so what else could he have done?" was the reply of one excursionist when asked his view of the important developments.

No one seemed to give thought to the fact that Saturday's eruption may mark the first of a series of startling events.

ATLANTAN KILLED IN BAXLEY CRASH Darrow Closes ASSAULT ON NRA

C. C. Mason, 43, Fatally Hurt in Accident Injuring Four Others.

One Atlantian was killed and nine others injured Sunday in a series of automobile accidents.

C. C. Mason, 43, of 783 Cascade avenue, S. W., died at 5:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Waycross hospital as the result of injuries received Sunday morning near Baxley in an accident in which four other Atlantians were hurt.

Those injured in the Mason car were Miss Vera Horne, of 112 Park drive; Mrs. Juvencia Begenbaugh, of 457 Lawton street; Herbert Carroll, Jr., of 1536 Montreat avenue; and Herman Copeland, 22, of 1543 Sophia place. Attacks at the Waycross hospital, where they are confined, said their injuries were not believed to be serious.

Mason, who was manager of the footwear division of the Hood Rubber Company in Atlanta, received a fracture of the skull and other injuries.

His wife, who survives him, was at his bedside when he died. She left Atlanta immediately for Waycross when notified of the accident.

Mason's car overturned four times on the highway near Baxley, Ga., at 4:30 o'clock Sunday morning. He and the other Atlantians were en route to Jacksonville Beach, Fla., at the time.

They were rushed to the Waycross hospital in a Baxley ambulance. Mason formerly resided at Dallas, Texas. He also is survived by a daughter, Miss Louise Mason, of Atlanta, and several brothers and sisters. His home office with the rubber company is in Baltimore, Md.

Mrs. J. J. McIlwain gave her address as Atlanta, was hurt Sunday morning in an accident near Griffin. She had several ribs broken when the car in which she was riding and another sideswiped on the highway. She was treated at Griffin hospital.

Woman Severely Cut.

In Atlanta early Sunday morning, Miss Ruth Walker, 840 West End avenue, was severely cut about the head and face when the car in which she was riding with D. A. Loeue, of 1047 Dewey street, collided with the machine of W. N. Harris, of 1371

Continued in Page 7, Column 3.

CARDENAS NAMED CHIEF EXECUTIVE IN MEXICAN VOTE

Opposition Candidate Concedes Defeat But Charges Dishonest and Violent Election.

MEXICO CITY, July 1.—(UP)—General Lazaro Cardenas, nominee of the national revolutionary (government) party, won the presidential election today, sweeping to victory by a landslide over his two opponents.

Colonel Adelberto Tejeda, conceding defeat, issued a counter-claim, however, that the election was dishonest.

He charged that 200 of his supporters had been killed during the campaign.

General Antonio L. Villareal, the other oppositionist, likewise conceded Cardenas' election tonight. Bulletin of the government party declared only a few thousand ballots had been cast for the combined opposition candidates.

The most serious outbreak during the election was at Coahuila, Vera Cruz province, where the chairman of the election board, a member of the national revolutionary party, was shot and killed by a follower of Tejeda.

Latest returns showed the country generally quiet, however, as 2,000,000 went to the polls. The tally so far showed:

Cardenas, 194,000.

Villareal, 5,800.

Tejeda, 1,600.

Laborda (communist), 750.

The election means continuation of the government party's nationalistic policies, begun under the regime of Plutarco Elias Calles, Mexico's "strong man." Cardenas is Calles' protégé.

Slain Woman's Body Definitely Identified

STROUDSBURG, Pa., July 1.—(AP)—The body of a woman, with two bullet wounds in the head, found last week near Marshall's creek, was identified today as that of Mrs. Mary J. Hastings, of Blue Ridge Springs.

The identification was made by a cousin of Mrs. Hastings, Patrick Deady, of Bridgeport, Conn., and two sheriff's deputies, O. D. Lemon and T. D. Zimmerman, of Blue Ridge Springs.

The deputies said Robert C. Kent Jr., was being held without bail in Roanoke, Va., on a charge of kidnapping Mrs. Hastings.

Deady, of Bridgeport, Conn., was the proprietor of the Blue Ridge Springs hotel. They stated Mrs. Hastings left the hotel with Kent on the night of June 28.

Deady and the deputies said identification was made positive by initials on rings found on the dead woman's hands, as well as jewelry and false teeth she wore.

Suicide Verdict Found In J. P. Henson's Death

A coroner's jury Sunday returned a verdict that John Porter Henson, 38, of 680 Juniper street, committed suicide Saturday by slashing his throat with a razor blade. He was found by his wife and died en route to a hospital.

Funeral services, originally scheduled for Sunday, will be conducted at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the chapel of Harry G. Poole, Dr. Louie D. Newton will officiate and interment will be in the New Decatur cemetery.

Henson formerly was a salesman for an oil company.

Flying Brothers Land At German Village

NEDLITZ, THEMENDORF, Germany, July 1.—(AP)—The Adomowicz brothers, flying from Paris on their way to Warsaw, landed at this village at 10 p. m. (4 p. m. eastern standard time), their trip halted by a shortage of gasoline.

Unknown Soldier of Civil War Buried in Ceremony at Marietta

By CECIL M. JONES. MARIETTA, Ga., July 1.—(AP)—A gigantic oak and a green cotton stalk, symbolic of the north and south, tonight stood guard over the unknown soldier of the Civil War, buried here today beneath the flags of a united nation and a lost cause.

Seventy years ago Sherman was moving on Atlanta in his march to the sea and the Confederates, outnumbered and poorly equipped, made a last stand on Kennesaw mountain to stop the Yankee general and his phalanx of soldiers.

The death roll was heavy, the northerners losing the most, as they sent wave after wave against the southern breastworks. Those same trenches remain on the mountain sides today and it was in the parapet of a trench on Cheatham hill, a small mountain adjacent to Kennesaw, that workers discovered the bullet-riddled bones of an unknown soldier.

There was nothing to tell whether he was a lad in gray who with squirrel rifle and minnie ball tried to stop the advancing horde, or whether he was a man in blue who stormed the trenches of his brothers.

But today with government officials

Continued in Page 4, Column 6.

Roosevelt Leaves on Long-Awaited Cruise Which Will Carry Him to Hawaiian Islands

The above layout shows the route President Roosevelt will follow on his trip to the Hawaiian Islands by way of the Virgin Islands and the Panama canal, returning via San Francisco. The U. S. S. Houston, above, commanded by Captain Walter B. Woodson, lower right, will carry the president to Hawaii and then to San Francisco.

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON. ABOARD THE U. S. S. GILMER

ROOSEVELT, July 1.—(AP)—The cruiser Houston with President Roosevelt aboard pointed down Chesapeake bay tonight on a history-making 13,000-mile journey that will carry the president to the far-flung American possessions in the Atlantic and Pacific.

Smiling with boyish enthusiasm, Mr. Roosevelt went out to sea from Annapolis, Md., amid the farewells of the family gathered on the naval academy pier and the applause of a crowd of well-wishers who also assembled at the embarkation point to see him off.

The president went out to the Houston, three miles out, on the destroyer

Gilmer. Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, greeted the president as his car rolled up to the foot of the Gilmer's gangplank.

The crew of the destroyer lined the starboard rail, drawn up smartly to attention.

Mrs. Roosevelt and others of the family gathered around to wish the president, Franklin Jr., and John, bon voyage.

A Sunday crowd milled back of lines which naval academy guards held.

The president went up the gangplank as camera flashes flared. Aboard he stood with hat off, at the rail, laughing.

Travel down the Chesapeake on the Houston was to be gauged for an arrival at 7 a. m., at the Hampton Roads naval base for an exchange of last-minute official papers.

Immediately afterward, the presidential flotilla will head past Cape Henry for the Atlantic and Puerto Rico, first landing place. A stop will be made at Haiti on Thursday, where the president of that island will be received on the Houston during a brief stop.

With Mr. Roosevelt, beside his two youngest sons, Franklin Jr., and John, were Rudolph Forster, veteran White House executive clerk; and Commander Ross T. McIntire, naval physician. Gunner, personal bodyguard of the president, Richard Jervis, head of the White House secret service.

Continued in Page 4, Column 3.

DILLINGER THUG SLUGS PHYSICIAN

Indiana Doctor Forced To Treat Wounded Bandit, Then Beaten.

NORTH WEBSTER, Ind., July 1.—(AP)—Dr. Leslie A. Laird was slugged unconscious early today by two gunmen, believed members of the Dillinger gang which robbed a South Bend bank Saturday, after he had treated one of the men for a gunshot wound.

The physician was awakened at his home, about a block from his office in this northern Indiana resort town, about 2 a. m. by a man, who authorities said answered the description of Homer Van Meter, one of the chief lieutenants of John Dillinger.

The stranger asked Laird to go to his office and treat a friend who had had his arm cut in an auto accident.

The physician, however, recognized the wound in the left forearm as caused by a bullet. After he had cared for it, at the patient's request, Dr. Laird gave him an anti-tetanus injection.

Then the man requested a "shot" of a narcotic. When Dr. Laird replied he had none, one hit him on the head with a gun-butt.

The doctor recovered consciousness about 45 minutes later to find that his office had been ransacked, both men had disappeared and the wires of his office telephone had been cut.

He notified Sheriff Harley Person, at Warsaw, who with South Bend detectives immediately began a search for the pair.

Dr. Laird also had suffered a cut over his left eye, but could not remember how that injury was received.

Carolina Group Protests Federal Aid on Greenwood Project.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(AP)—The Duke endowment tonight initiated a public campaign for revocation by the public works administration of a $2,707,000 loan and grant to Greenwood county, South Carolina, for a municipal power plant that would compete with the Duke Power Company.

Anticipating a PWA hearing tomorrow, Dr. W. S. Rankin made public a memorandum addressed to more than 300 beneficiaries of the organization founded in 1924 by the late tobacco multi-millionaire, James B. Duke.

"The federal government," it said, "is pursuing policies which, unless abandoned, will seriously cripple, if not destroy, the Duke Power Company."

The endowment largely relies on that company. Dr. Rankin explained in handing out the document, for funds distributed annually in North and South Carolina to various hospitals, orphanages and churches as well as Duke University, Davidson, Johnson, Smith and Furman colleges.

It was revealed that Senator Bailey and Representatives Doughton and Bulwinkle, of North Carolina, had interfered with the administration to get reconsideration of the loan. When the hearing was granted, identity of the objecting organization was not made public here.

Dr. Rankin, who heads the Duke endowment hospital system, said other witnesses on that side would include: N. A. Cooke, of Charlotte, N. C., vice president of the Duke Power Company; W. P. Few, president of Duke University; Dr. Walter L. Lingle, president of Davidson College; Dr. B. E. Geer, president of Furman; Colonel Monroe Johnson, Marion, S. C.; Dr. James McClellan, Florence, S. C.; C. K. Proctor, Oxford, N. C., and Superintendent Bates, of Roper hospital, Charleston.

Continued in Page 4, Column 6.

RUTHLESS KILLING SOLIDIFIES POWER OF NAZI DICTATOR

Hitler More Firmly in Saddle for the Moment But Nation Is Tense and Future Looks Dark as President Fails.

ARMY SAID LOYAL TO CHANCELLOR

Public Is Warned "More Heads Will Fall" If Anyone Else Dares Oppose Autocratic Ruler.

By the Associated Press.

Ten more reported executions in Germany strengthened the iron grip of Chancellor Hitler as he struck with ruthless determination to stamp out revolts against the Nazi regime.

The country was quiet yesterday, with the chancellor apparently firmly in the saddle after his death-dealing suppression of rebellion among his storm troop leaders.

There were official admissions that more deaths—executions and suicides—had occurred, but no official announcements were made.

The feeling of governmental insecurity was heightened by the revelation that President Paul von Hindenburg, aged hero of the people and the army, is seriously ill.

The army, relieved of emergency duties, assured Hitler through General Erast Roedel, a close personal friend of the dictator, that it is loyal to him and one detachment passed in review before the chancellor.

More Names on Death List.

The government revealed there would be a "few more names" to add to the list of those executed and also made it known for the first time that Ernst Roedel, once a close personal friend of Hitler, was summarily shot after he was deposed as supreme commander of the storm troops.

Vice Chancellor Von Papen, conservative critic of some Nazi policies, was a virtual prisoner in his own home, under orders not to leave it without permission.

More "heads will fall" if anyone else attempts an uprising against Hitler, Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels warned the public in a radio address.

Serious-minded Germans asked themselves many questions about the future, but the tragic developments, involving executions, suicides and killings while "resisting arrest" did not interfere with the holiday plans of thousands of Berliners.

Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm throughout the crisis were not even disturbed by the placing of guards around his wings occupied home.

Royal Army Silent.

Apparently the whole former royal family was keeping silence under orders from the exiled Wilhelm II.

Hitler sent a "reassuring message" to his friend, Prince August Wilhelm, a storm troop leader.

Austria sent two Heimwehr battalions to the German border to patrol the roads leading from the reich. Austrian newspapers believed that Germany would have still more trouble and that Hitler would find little time to carry on any controversy with Vienna.

Junker Triumph.

France interpreted the Nazi "house cleaning" of some Nazi policies as a victory for the Junker class.

It was generally believed that France was the "foreign power" with which General Kurt Von Schleicher, slain yesterday, and some of the rebellious storm troops were accused of having relations.

Soviet Russia looked upon the German situation with interest.

Continued in Page 4, Column 7.

YEGGS CAPTURED AFTER LONG HUNT

2 Notorious Cracksmen Trained for Six Weeks, Caught in Beer Plant.

Six weeks of work by three detectives Sunday night resulted in the capture of two notorious safe crackers and prevented the robbery of an empty safe.

Caught in the Tru-Blu Beer Distributors, Inc., building at 207-9 Spring street, the two men gave their names as Paul H. Jarrett, 35, and W. L. Jarrett, 30.

Jarrett, police said, was so expert in safe-cracking he had acted as instructor to a number of other Atlanta yeggs. Henry they said, was paroled shortly before Christmas by Governor Eugene Talmadge after he had served two years of a five-year sentence for safe-cracking. He was caught in the act of blasting the safe of the J. M. Harrison Company, on Ivy street, more than two years ago.

City Detectives C. E. McCrary and J. H. Davis and Private Detective J. W. Nation began work on a gang of robbers six weeks ago and the trail led them Sunday night to the Tru-Blu Company offices. They found that the combination of the safe had been knocked off but that the door was still closed.

The detectives called for reinforcement.

Continued in Page 7, Column 2.

ATLANTA The Weather

ATLANTA—One year ago (Sunday, July 2), high 92; low 74; clear.

Georgia—Local thundershowers Monday and Tuesday.

North Carolina and South Carolina—Local thundershowers Monday and Tuesday.

Florida—Generally fair Monday and Tuesday except widely scattered afternoon thundershowers.

Tennessee—Local thundershowers Monday and probably Tuesday; little change in temperature.

Louisiana—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday, scattered afternoon thundershowers in east portion.

Mississippi, Alabama and Extreme Northwest Florida—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday with scattered thundershowers.

Arkansas and Oklahoma—Partly cloudy and somewhat unsettled Monday and Tuesday, continued warm.

East Texas—Partly cloudy to unsettled Monday and Tuesday; probably scattered thundershowers in southwest portion and on west coast; continued warm.

West Texas—Partly cloudy Monday and Tuesday; probably scattered thundershowers in the Rio Grande valley and in the Panhandle.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Weather bureau records of temperature and rainfall for the 24 hours ending 8 p. m. in the principal cotton-growing areas and elsewhere:

Station. High. Low. Precip. Sun. Night. Rain.

Atlanta. 86. 72. .26.

Albany. 80. 60. .00.

Asheville. 84. 64. .48.

Birmingham. 86. 72. .04.

Boston. 80. 62. .00.

Chicago. 86. 72. .15.

Cincinnati. 86. 72. .00.

Denver. 92. 68. .00.

Detroit. 90. 74. .00.

El Paso. 90. 74. .00.

Los Angeles. 94. 74. .00.

Little Rock. 76. 62. .00.

Lowell. 88. 72. .00.

Louisville. 88. 72. .00.

Memphis. 88. 72. .00.

Meridian. 90. 72. .02.

Miami. 86. 80. .00.

Mobile. 92. 76. .00

Some years ago there went out to Africa a young zoologist who was interested in studying the physiology of the lung-fishes. He was at first unsuccessful in his attempt to get specimens, but he eventually found all that he needed and carried his work through to a successful conclusion. What is equally important, he found that the observations he had made had profoundly influenced his personal philosophy of life and had enriched his entire personal appreciation of existence, its forces and its follies.

That is something that I have also had impressed upon me. No matter what particular part of the whole field of natural history I happen to be dealing with at the moment, whether permanently, as in the case of the reptiles, or merely temporarily, as an interested spectator in other fields, I find that the facts that are revealed to me make a lasting impression and have to be taken into account as my personal philosophy is constantly revised and changed.

It is difficult, for example, to go into the history of a race and see what has happened in the great period of elapsed time since the race began without beginning to feel some concern over the future history of the human race. That, however, is not at all what I started to say. What I wanted to write about was the interpretation that one can give to the facts as they are found.

Some years ago it was thought fashionable to declare oneself either a vitalist or a mechanist; that is, one who says that there are great forces that operate the world and which cannot be understood by the puny brains of men, declaring those forces unknown and unknowable, is a vitalist, whereas one who says that all secrets shall eventually be known in terms of chemical and physical laws is a mechanist.

Personally I cannot see that anything is to be gained by flying at the throat of another scientist over the personal interpretation he chooses to place upon the facts of the case. He may like my ideas or I may like his. I have more to do in getting new facts to occupy my time that suits me better than scripping over what the facts mean. If certain of the men whom I know will spend less time throwing insults at each other and more time setting more facts, there would have to be an eventual common ground in which they could bury the hatchet of their animosity and say "we were both wrong, let's forget it." The new facts are overwhelming in their significance, and we arrived at them in spite of personal beliefs.

4TH CCC ENROLLMENT TO BE STARTED TODAY

Army Men Begin State Tour in Quest of Quota of 3,472 Men.

With the president's authority to begin the fourth enrollment period for the civilian conservation corps, army men left early Sunday morning for Eton, Ga., on an itinerary that will take them throughout the state to procure Georgia's quota of approximately 3,472 men.

Major Charles T. Senay, regular army officer, is in charge of the enrollment party. Assisting him will be Lieutenant (junior grade), James E. Reeves, United States navy; First Lieutenant Robert H. deLarrette and First Lieutenant William E. Hutto, Georgia medical reservists; Sergeants Henry Hollis, Cecil Mayes, James T. Richardson and Charlie L. Grigg, all of the Atlanta recruiting district; Sergeant Harold L. Mitchell, James F. McGahan, John W. Caudle and George D. Smith, of the twenty-second infantry at Fort McPherson.

Beginning today at Eton 120 single white men between the ages of 18 and 25 years will be enrolled and sent to Georgia camp F-7, near Eton. On Tuesday Major Senay and his assistants will enroll 119 of the same class of men at Blue Ridge for Georgia camp F-8, near that town.

Returning to Atlanta Thursday the party will recruit approximately 192 men here. Included in the group to be procured here are 139 young white men, 50 white World War veterans and three negro World War veterans. Headquarters of district B at Fort McPherson is to receive 52 white juniors, while Georgia camps F-1 and F-11, both located near Gainesville, will take care of the 87 white juniors and the 50 white World War veterans, respectively. The three negro World War veterans will be sent to Corinth, Mississippi.

A total of 157 white men and 27 negroes will be enrolled here on July 6 for shipment to camps located at Ellijay, Ga., and Chattanooga, Tenn., while on July 7 134 white men will be enrolled at Warm Springs for the camps at Warm Springs and Columbus.

Albany will be the scene of procurement on July 9, when 117 young white men, 20 white World War veterans and 20 negro juniors will be enrolled for camps at Albany, Chattahoochee and Gainesville. On July 10, the party will move to Valdosta for the procurement of 183 junior whites who are to be ordered to camps at Fargo, Ga., and St. George, Ga., Homerville, Ga., will be the rendezvous on July 11. One hundred and fifty-three junior whites will be recruited there and placed in Georgia camp F-12, near Homerville. "Juniors" are between the ages of 18 and 25 years.

Two hundred and thirty-six white juniors will be procured at Brunswick on July 12 and shipped to camps at Brunswick and Woodbine, and July 13 and 14 will be spent at Savannah in enrolling 445 junior whites and 23 junior negroes. Bloomingdale, McGehee, Savannah and Chattahoochee are each to receive some of these men, Major Senay said.

Major Senay said that the party will be at Augusta on July 16; Sopeville, July 17; Baxley, July 18; Thomasville, July 19; Albany, July 20; Butler, July 21; Macon, July 22; Athens, July 24; Clayton, July 25; and Atlanta on July 26 and 27.

New Assistant Scout Executive For Atlanta To Arrive Today

Atlanta Scoutdom, launched well into its summer program at Bert Adams camp, where 100 Atlanta Scouts will in 1934 rate, will this week, today will welcome George P. Freeman, formerly Boy Scout executive at Columbus, Miss., as the new assistant Scout executive of the Atlanta council.

Mr. Freeman succeeds C. L. Adams, who was recently transferred to Columbus, Ga., as Scout executive. He has served the East Mississippi council for five years as Scout executive, where he made an outstanding record. Before becoming actively associated with Scouting as an executive, Mr. Freeman was in the lumber business in Louisiana, where he served as a Scoutmaster for four years.

He holds an A. B. degree from Wheaton College, has attended Tabor Naval Academy and spent two years as a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. To especially prepare himself for the executive division of Scouting, Mr. Freeman attended the national training school for Scout executives in 1930 and was immediately appointed to the East Mississippi council.

During the past week, the first week of the season at Bert Adams camp 127 Scouts were enrolled. Troops represented at Bert Adams camp this week and those in charge of each troop will be Troop 34, Assistant Scoutmaster Graham Green Jr.; Troop 33, Scoutmaster F. L. Allman; Troop 4, Hapeville, Scoutmaster O. K. Woods; Troop 440, Scoutmaster C. W. Harwell; Troop 27, Scoutmaster Louis Silver; Troop 16, Scoutmaster A. C. Morris; Troop 18, Scoutmaster C. G. Green; Troop 2, Scoutmaster

GEORGE P. FREEMAN.

R. R. Giles; Troop 26, Acting Scoutmaster Woodrow Fuller; Troop 48, Scoutmaster G. M. McCord; and Troop 3, Decatur, Scoutmaster L. E. Doggett.

Cultural Programs at 'Y' Camp Praised by Scholarship Winner

Logan Irwin, of Americus, Ga., a leader at the Athens "Y" camp, in the mountains of north Georgia, just above Tallulah Falls, and a recent graduate of the University of South Carolina, has been awarded a scholarship in physics to the University of Pennsylvania, it was announced last week.

Irwin, who has attended the "Y" camp for several summers, has been particularly impressed with the cultural and spiritual advantages offered the boys there and the girl campers at Camp Chattooga. Writing of the camps recently, Irwin said: "Y. T. Forbes, superintendent of the camp has wisely realized that the training of youth is complex. He has, therefore, developed a program of activities which is, perhaps, unequalled by similar camps.

"As an important phase of this plan, the camp is conducting a program of spiritual and cultural training unique in scope and significance.

He then lists the divisions of this program including the morning chapel services, with talks by leaders, the respect programs conducted by the different cabin groups, the lectures by visiting prominent men in letters, science and religion and the cabin prayer and Bible services conducted at night in the different cabins.

The cultural program is, of course, strictly limited as to time and merely adds pleasant variety to the day's activities, without detracting from the sports and physical features of the camps.

Ralph T. Jones, of the staff of The Constitution, whose talks on books and the stage have been a regular item on the camp cultural programs for several seasons, will spend this week at the camp, speaking each night either to the "Y" camp boys or the girls of Camp Chattooga. The camps opened for the season last Thursday.

Mr. Forbes announced that, although the enrollment this year has been exceptionally heavy, more than three times that of 1933, there are still a few vacancies and applicants will be accepted at any time as long as there is accommodation available.

Plans for Atlanta "Peach Ball" And Queen Selection Announced

Plans for Atlanta's "peach ball," at which one of the city's most beautiful young women will be selected to represent Atlanta at the Century of Progress Exposition on "Georgia Day," have been announced.

The local committee, headed by Scott W. Allen, met Friday and started preliminary plans for the ball, which will be one of the most brilliant events of its kind in the city's history.

Similar balls will be held in many Georgia cities for the selection of the most beautiful girls.

These "Georgia Peaches" will be the guests of the Georgia Century of Progress commission at the Chicago Exposition during Georgia Week, and this unusual form of celebration is expected to win again for Georgia the distinction of putting on the finest show at the great Court of States at Chicago.

The Atlanta ball probably will be held early in September. Georgia Week will open September 25-26. The place will be announced later.

Method of Selection. Several thousand are expected to attend and take part in the voting for the beauty queen. Under the rules of the peach balls here and throughout the state the purchaser of each ticket will be allowed to cast one vote in the selection of the queen.

Not only Atlanta but many other Georgia cities are falling enthusiastically in line with the plan. The Georgia Century of Progress commission, of which Wiley L. Moore is chairman and Russell R. Whitman is director, have received responses from Augusta, Albany, Cartersville, Moultrie, Thomasville, Quitman and Blakely. All have named committees and started plans.

Milton Fleetwood, of Cartersville, president of the Georgia Press Association, who is taking a leading part in the preliminary work incident to the balls, praised the plan highly.

"Not only will it stimulate interest throughout Georgia in the wonderful exhibit Georgia is putting on at the Century of Progress Exposition," he said, "but if it receives half the support it should it will show the nation that Georgia can put things over in a big way."

Georgia Day last year was one of the most interesting events of the entire exposition and if present plans are carried out, will be even more successful this year. The program includes a parade from the Hotel Morrison, Georgia headquarters, in which the governor will lead the way. At the fair, Rufus Dawes, president of the Century of Progress Exposition, will greet the visitors.

The program will be broadcast over a nation-wide hookup.

Members of the Atlanta Century of Progress peach ball committee, in addition to Scott W. Allen, chairman, Jesse Draper and Mrs. Max E. Land, vice chairmen, include R. G. Clay, Carter Woodford, Jackson Dick, Major John S. Cohen, Clark Howell Jr., Herbert Porter, W. W. Winter, A. L. Belle Isle, General Lindley W. Camp, Goodloe Tancay, James D. Robinson, Mrs. William Hester, Rhodes Perdue, Alva Maxwell, Robert Strickland, R. DeWitt King, John O. Chiles, Elias Phillips, Mrs. Flora S. Osburn and Russell R. Whitman.

Plans for Atlanta's "peach ball," at which one of the city's most beautiful young women will be selected to represent Atlanta at the Century of Progress Exposition on "Georgia Day," have been announced.

The local committee, headed by Scott W. Allen, met Friday and started preliminary plans for the ball, which will be one of the most brilliant events of its kind in the city's history.

Similar balls will be held in many Georgia cities for the selection of the most beautiful girls.

These "Georgia Peaches" will be the guests of the Georgia Century of Progress commission at the Chicago Exposition during Georgia Week, and this unusual form of celebration is expected to win again for Georgia the distinction of putting on the finest show at the great Court of States at Chicago.

The Atlanta ball probably will be held early in September. Georgia Week will open September 25-26. The place will be announced later.

Method of Selection. Several thousand are expected to attend and take part in the voting for the beauty queen. Under the rules of the peach balls here and throughout the state the purchaser of each ticket will be allowed to cast one vote in the selection of the queen.

Not only Atlanta but many other Georgia cities are falling enthusiastically in line with the plan. The Georgia Century of Progress commission, of which Wiley L. Moore is chairman and Russell R. Whitman is director, have received responses from Augusta, Albany, Cartersville, Moultrie, Thomasville, Quitman and Blakely. All have named committees and started plans.

Milton Fleetwood, of Cartersville, president of the Georgia Press Association, who is taking a leading part in the preliminary work incident to the balls, praised the plan highly.

"Not only will it stimulate interest throughout Georgia in the wonderful exhibit Georgia is putting on at the Century of Progress Exposition," he said, "but if it receives half the support it should it will show the nation that Georgia can put things over in a big way."

Georgia Day last year was one of the most interesting events of the entire exposition and if present plans are carried out, will be even more successful this year. The program includes a parade from the Hotel Morrison, Georgia headquarters, in which the governor will lead the way. At the fair, Rufus Dawes, president of the Century of Progress Exposition, will greet the visitors.

The program will be broadcast over a nation-wide hookup.

Members of the Atlanta Century of Progress peach ball committee, in addition to Scott W. Allen, chairman, Jesse Draper and Mrs. Max E. Land, vice chairmen, include R. G. Clay, Carter Woodford, Jackson Dick, Major John S. Cohen, Clark Howell Jr., Herbert Porter, W. W. Winter, A. L. Belle Isle, General Lindley W. Camp, Goodloe Tancay, James D. Robinson, Mrs. William Hester, Rhodes Perdue, Alva Maxwell, Robert Strickland, R. DeWitt King, John O. Chiles, Elias Phillips, Mrs. Flora S. Osburn and Russell R. Whitman.

Plans for Atlanta's "peach ball," at which one of the city's most beautiful young women will be selected to represent Atlanta at the Century of Progress Exposition on "Georgia Day," have been announced.

The local committee, headed by Scott W. Allen, met Friday and started preliminary plans for the ball, which will be one of the most brilliant events of its kind in the city's history.

Similar balls will be held in many Georgia cities for the selection of the most beautiful girls.

These "Georgia Peaches" will be the guests of the Georgia Century of Progress commission at the Chicago Exposition during Georgia Week, and this unusual form of celebration is expected to win again for Georgia the distinction of putting on the finest show at the great Court of States at Chicago.

The Atlanta ball probably will be held early in September. Georgia Week will open September 25-26. The place will be announced later.

Method of Selection. Several thousand are expected to attend and take part in the voting for the beauty queen. Under the rules of the peach balls here and throughout the state the purchaser of each ticket will be allowed to cast one vote in the selection of the queen.

Not only Atlanta but many other Georgia cities are falling enthusiastically in line with the plan. The Georgia Century of Progress commission, of which Wiley L. Moore is chairman and Russell R. Whitman is director, have received responses from Augusta, Albany, Cartersville, Moultrie, Thomasville, Quitman and Blakely. All have named committees and started plans.

Crash Causes Fight, One Participant Dies

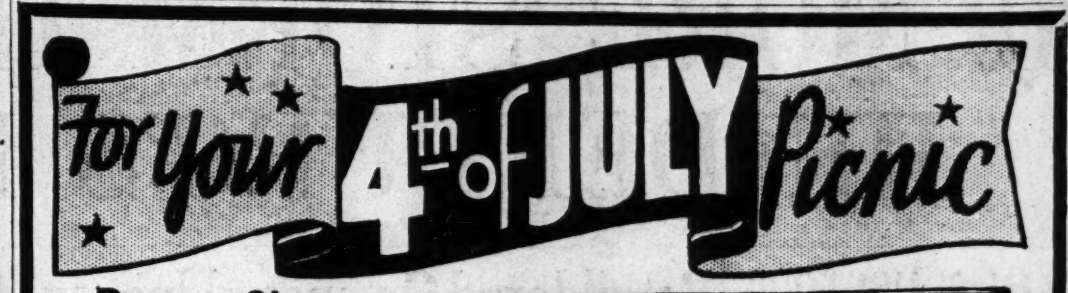

VALDOSTA, Ga., July 1.—An automobile driven by J. W. Caulk, of near Lake Park, and a wagon operated by "Old Man" Clanton, also of the Lake Park section, collided several miles south of Valdosta last night.

Although none of the occupants of the two vehicles were injured, Caulk is dead from an alleged beating at the hands of Clanton.

It is reported that Caulk and his family occupied the automobile and Clanton and his son were in the wagon when the collision occurred. After stock had been taken and the occupants found to be uninjured, it is alleged that an argument arose between Caulk and Clanton about the blame. Blows followed and Caulk got the worst of the bout.

He was brought to the city for treatment and after receiving emergency aid was sent home, it being understood that his injuries did not seem to be serious. Later in the night his condition became worse and he passed away. Caulk was about 60 years old and leaves a family.

Rogers Stores Will Be Closed Wed.—July 4th

Fruits & Vegetables

Fresh Crisp Iceberg Lettuce

Large Head 7c

Georgia Grown Pole Beans 2 LBS. 9c

Small Yellow Squash 2 LBS. 5c

Fresh Bunch Beets BUNCH 5c

California Carrots BUNCH 5c

Fresh Georgia Cabbage LB. 1c

Yellow Onions 3 LBS. 10c

Fresh Tender Corn 6 EARS 15c

California Valencia Oranges DOZ. 19c

Juicy California Lemons DOZ. 15c

Gorton's Cod Fish 2 CANS 25c

Swansdown Cake Flour PKG. 29c

XYZ Salad Dressing QUART JAR 19c

XYZ Relish Spread PINT JAR 15c

XYZ Relish Spread QUART JAR 21c

Temple Garden Tea 2-0Z. PKG. 10c

Gold Medal Cake Flour PKG. 29c

Tasty Flake Soda Crackers LB. BOX 10c

Apple Butter 14-0Z. JAR 10c

Foster's Queen Olives 22-0Z. JAR 25c

Tellam's Peanut Butter 8-0Z. JAR 10c

16-0Z. JAR, 15c

Welch's Grape Juice PINT BOTTLE 15c

ROGERS QUALITY FOOD SHOPS

XYZ Salad Dressing PINT JAR 13c

American—Dill Pickles 2 25-0Z. JARS 25c

American—Sweet Mixed Pickles 25-0Z. JAR 19c

Libby's—Stuffed Olives 3-0Z. JAR 10c

Blue Sea Tuna Fish CAN 17c

White Paper Napkins 2 PKGS. 15c

Libby's—Vienna Sausage 2 CANS 15c

Perfection—Vanilla Wafers LB. 15c

Imported Sardines 4-SIZE CAN 10c

Waxtex Wax Paper 2 ROLLS 15c

Armour's Star Potted Meat 3 CANS 10c

Red Maraschino Cherries 3-0Z. BOTTLE 10c

Derby—Sandwich Spread 3 CANS 25c

Echo-Dri—Pale Dry Ginger Ale 12-0Z. BOTTLE 5c

PLUS 2c DEPOSIT ON BOTTLE

Clickquot Club or Canada Dry Ginger Ale BOT. 15c

Dole's Pineapple Juice 2 NO. 3 CANS 25c

Stokely's Tomato Juice 2 CANS 15c

Gold Label Coffee 2 LB. 23c

Rogers Santos Coffee 2 LB. 19c

Libby's or Del Monte Sliced Pineapple NO. 3/4 CAN 19c

Pure Concord Grape Juice QUART BOT. 29c

Del Monte Fruit Cocktail NO. 1 CAN 15c

IN ROGERS MEAT MARKETS

Sliced Boiled Ham 1/2 LB. 22c

Fryers LB. 33c

Armour's Strausburger 1/2-lb. 17c

Macaroni & Cheese Loaf 1/2-lb. 15c

Pimento Ham 1/2-lb. 15c

Sliced Bologna 1/2-lb. 19c

Wieners 1/2-lb. 19c

Veal Cutlets 1/2-lb. 25c

Veal Loin Chops 1/2-lb. 25c

Veal Chuck Roast 1/2-lb. 12 1/2c

Picnic Hams 1/2-lb. 12 1/2c

Chuck Roast 1/2-lb. 15c

Sou. Mansion Bacon 1/2-lb. 29c

Edgemere Bacon 1/2-lb. 18c

At A&P Meat Markets (For Monday Only)

Beef Liver LB. 15c

Lean Beef FOR STEWING LB. 15c

Spanish Meat Loaf LB. 19c

Quail Franks LB. 25c

Pork & Beans 3 1-LB. CANS 13c

Ketchup QUAKER MAID 2 8-0Z. BOTTLES 17c

Olives SULTANA PLAIN QUART JAR 31c

Dressing 2 PINTS 25c

NECTAR TEA 1-LB. PKG. 15c

ENCORE Olive Oil 1-PINT 29c

Encore Stuffed Olives 2 6-0Z. JARS 33c

Rajah Sandwich Spread 2 PINTS 39c

Sultana Peanut Butter 2 1-LB. JARS 27c

Encore Spaghetti 3 CANS 22c

Rajah Mustard 2 9-0Z. JARS 15c

Sultana Apple Butter 2 28-0Z. JAR 17c

A&P Grape Juice 2 PINTS 27c

QUART 25c

A&P Wax Paper PKG. 5c

Dixie Drinking Cups 3 PKGS. 25c

French's Mustard 6-0Z. JAR 10c

Cocoonog Chocolate Food Drink 4-LB. CAN 19c

Ginger Ale Yukon Club Plus 2c 12-0Z. BOTTLE 5c

Lime Rickey Yukon Club Plus 2c 12-0Z. BOTTLE 5c

Sparkling Water Yukon Club Plus 2c 12-0Z. BOTTLE 5c

N. B. C. Crackers De Luxe Asst. PKG. 27c

Gardner's Potato Chips GIANT BAG 10c

Pickles OLD VIRGINIA ASSORTED 8-0Z. JAR 9c

Dill Pickles ALABAMA GIRL 2 26-0Z. JARS 27c

Potted Meats ARMOUR'S 3 NO. 1 CANS 10c

Vegetables and Fruits (For Monday and Tuesday)

Lemons California Medium Size DOZ. 15c

Oranges California Medium Size DOZ. 17c

Bananas Large Yellow, Ripe 2 LBS. 9c

Onions Texas White or Yellow LB. 4c

Potatoes New Crop Virginia 5 LBS. 9c

Cabbage Georgia Green Head LB. 1c

Celery California Tall Stalks EACH 15c

Lettuce Washington State Large Size HEAD 7c

New P. O. Building To Be Opened Today

With practically all of the necessary repairs made and the new post-office made habitable, the structure will be opened to the public today.

All remaining departments of the old postoffice and Station B were moved over to the new building at Forsyth and Hunter and Spring streets Friday and Saturday and will carry on their work today without loss of time. Acting Postmaster Lon F. Livingston announced.

The canopy over the conveyor belt in the tunnel which connects the new building with the Terminal Station has been completed and satisfactorily keeps the dampness from the conveyor belt. Work of reconstructing the Forsyth street plaza will start soon and work completed within the past few days has been successful in keeping the seepage water out of the boiler room, it was said.

Rain, Cooler Weather Forecast for Today

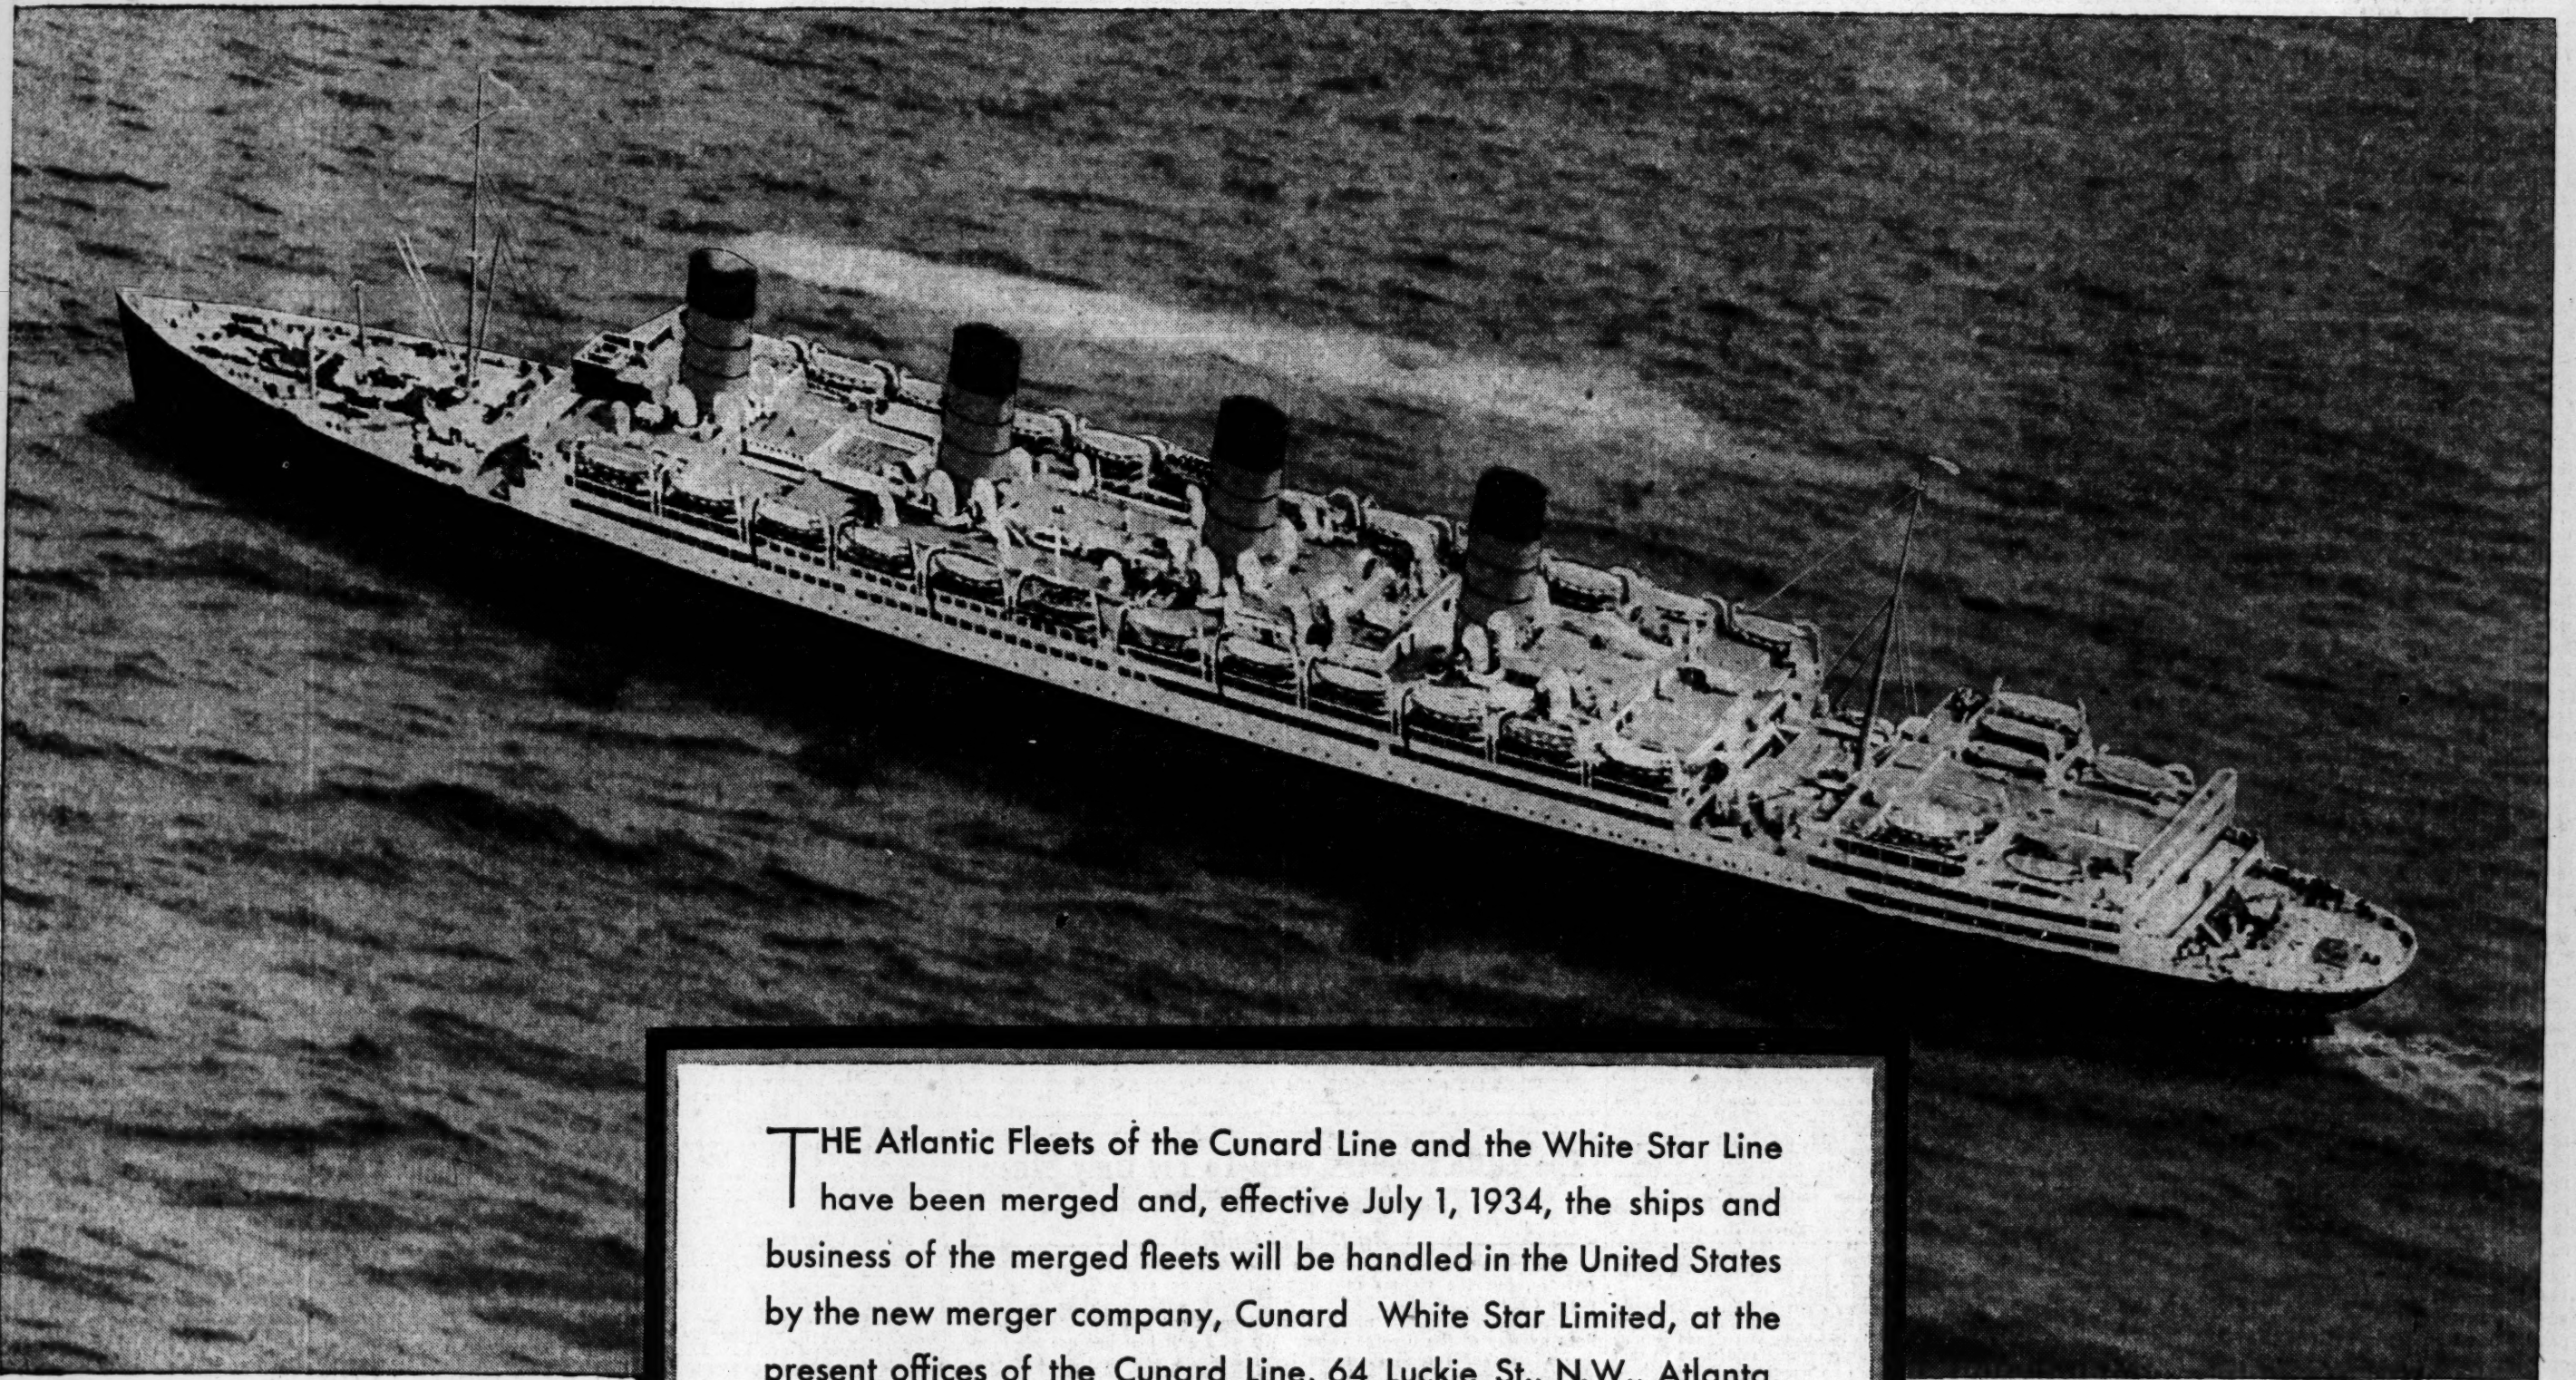

The rain which fell in Atlanta Sunday afternoon broke the high temperature siege and caused the thermometer to drop from the 88 degrees it hovered around from noon until 1 o'clock to 69 degrees at 6 o'clock, according to the local weather bureau.

Only 27 of an inch of rain fell in the two hours between 1:40 o'clock and 3:40 o'clock, 20 of an inch falling in the first 20 minutes of the shower.

The rain gives Atlanta the prospect of enjoying the coolest day today it has experienced since June 19. The high for today is expected to reach about 75 degrees, as against temperatures of from 87 to 95 the city has had since June 19, the weather man said.

Local thundershowers were in prospect for today.

CUNARD WHITE STAR LIMITED

THE Atlantic Fleets of the Cunard Line and the White Star Line have been merged and, effective July 1, 1934, the ships and business of the merged fleets will be handled in the United States by the new merger company, Cunard White Star Limited, at the present offices of the Cunard Line, 64 Luckie St., N.W., Atlanta, and branch offices in the principal cities of the United States: New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Baltimore, Cleveland, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Boston, Detroit, New Orleans, Portland, Me., Seattle, Washington, D. C.

Your Local Travel Agent is ready to serve you.

CUNARD and WHITE STAR are now one, a story of the sea which is the history of Britain. For seamen founded this island kingdom. Ships were "The wooden walls of England" . . . far-flung boundaries which fostered industry and commerce to keep step with empire. Life was inextricably bound in with the needs of England's growth over the seven seas . . . the best of the land went into her ships; the best of her men to man them.

And throughout the last century almost the whole story of Britain on the seas is the history of the parallel development of Cunard and White Star. Together they have gone forward, participating alike in a tradition of ships and seamen which has become almost synonymous with the record of achievement in ocean transportation as we know it today. And now Cunard and White Star are one in fact. Their union brings into being what is by far the greatest fleet on the Atlantic—616,000 tons—with the world's two largest vessels as flagships. These vast resources under one management are immediately significant to the traveller and shipper. But there is another significance that lies behind the veil of statistics. The British tradition of seamanship lives in the hearts and minds of men and there we believe lies the supreme good in the Cunard White Star union. It brings together a great body of officers and men . . . irreplaceable men without whom ships would be so much steel. It joins and vitalizes the traditions of seamen who made ocean transportation what it is today; who today are making it what it will be tomorrow.

BERENGARIA	AQUITANIA	MAURETANIA	GEORGIC	FRANCONIA	ADRIATIC	SCYTHIA	ALBERTIC	LANCASTRIA	CALGARIC	ANTONIA
MAJESTIC	OLYMPIC	HOMERIC	BRITANNIC	CARINTHIA	SAMARIA	LACONIA	LAURENTIC	DORIC	ANDANIA	AUSONIA
			ALAUNIA		ASCANIA		AURANIA

ALSO "#534", 73,000 TONS, NOW BUILDING

THE STORY OF A FLEET THAT IS THE STORY OF AN EMPIRE

CIVIC GROUPS TO DRIVE FOR REGISTRATION HIKE

30 Organizations Will Meet Today at Voters' League Offices.

Representatives of 30 Atlanta civic organizations will meet at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at the headquarters of the Atlanta League of Women Voters, 74 Whitehall street, for the purpose of outlining plans for the annual campaign sponsored by the league, to get Atlanta to register for the September elections.

The league increased the potential vote in Atlanta last year by 150 per cent, and through another "Get Out the Vote" campaign hopes to increase registration this year by the same margin, said Mrs. J. O. Sanders, president, in announcing today's meeting. She will preside at the conference.

It was pointed out by Mrs. Sanders that the present registration is approximately 12,000 but the potential registration is 25,000. It is the aim of the women voters of the city to get as many of this number to register and vote in the primaries as possible.

At today's meeting each of the 30 civic organizations is slated to have two representatives present to help formulate plans for the "Get Out the Vote" campaign.

The organizations which are co-operating with the league in the work include: Atlanta Real Estate Board, West End Businessmen's Association, Ansley Park Civic League, City Club, Rotary Club, Civitan Club, Atlanta Intercivic Association, Lions Club, Business and Professional Women's Club, 1933 Club, Aero Club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Atlanta Bar Association, Atlanta P. T. A. Council, Morningstar Civic League, Morningstar P. T. A. Council, Kiwanis Club, League of League Secretaries Club, Masonic Club, Chamber of Commerce, Atlanta Federation of Trades, Voters' Council, Atlanta Federation of Women's Clubs, Atlanta Retail Credit Association, Council of Jewish Women and Atlanta Teachers' Association.

Griffin Attorney Takes Own Life

GRiffin, Ga., July 1.—R. A. Hartley, 40, attorney and member of the Griffin Bar Association, shot and killed himself here late this afternoon. His act was attributed to ill health, which he had experienced for some time.

Hartley, a World War veteran, is survived by his widow, his mother and three small children. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Theater Programs Picture and Stage Shows

CAPITOL—"King and Little It," with Zasu Pitts, Nat Pendleton, etc., at 11:30, 2:30, 5:30, 7:30 and 10:15.

"Southland Revue," on stage at 1:30, 4:15, 6:50 and 9:30. Short subjects.

Burlesque

ATLANTA—"Hot Rhythm," with Texas Wagner, Hop Farnell, etc. Matinee at 2:30. Tonight at 8:30.

First-Run Pictures

FOX—"The Great Flirtation," with Adolph Menjou, Elissa Landi, etc., at 1:30, 3:30, 5:30, 7:30 and 9:30. Newsreel and short subjects.

LOEW'S GRAND—"Murder in the Private Car," with Charlie Ruggles, Una Merkel, etc., at 11:00, 1:10, 3:20, 5:30, 7:40 and 9:50. "Racer-Carriers Fight" at 12:30, 2:40, 4:50, 7:00 and 9:15. Newsreel and short subjects.

PARAMOUNT—"Baby, Take a Bow," with Shirley Temple, James Hann, etc., at 12:15, 2:05, 3:35, 5:12, 7:45 and 9:35. Newsreel and short subjects.

RIALTO—"Most Precious Thing in Life," with Jean Arthur, Donald Cook, etc., at 11, 12:40, 2:38, 4:27, 6:16, 8:06 and 9:54. Short subjects, comedy, short subjects and newsreel.

Second-Run Pictures

ALAMO—"Little Women," with Katharine Hepburn.

ALPHA—"Strange Adventure," with Regis Toomey.

Neighborhood Theaters

AMERICAN—"Son of Kong," with Robert Armstrong.

BANKHEAD—"Cross Country Cruise," with Low Ayres.

BURKEHEAD—"As Husbands Go," at 2:45, 5:30, 7:20, 9:20.

COLLEGE PARK—"Hill Hips Hoors," with Wheeler and Woolsey.

DEKALB—"Mi Nellie," with Paul Muni.

EMPIRE—"David Harum," with Will Rogers.

FAIRFAX—"Wild Boys of the Road," with Frankie Darro.

FAIRVIEW—"Cross Country Cruise," with Low Ayres.

HILAN—"Death Takes a Holiday," with Fredric March.

KIRKWOOD—"It Happened One Night," with Clark Gable.

LAKEWOOD HEIGHTS—"Academy," with Charles Farrell.

LIBERTY—"Carolina," with Janet Gaynor.

MADISON—"Love Birds," with Slim Sumners.

PALACE—"Gold Diggers of 1933," with Will Rogers.

PONCE DE LEON—"Mr. Skitch," with Will Rogers.

TENTH STREET—"The Trumpet Blows," with George Raft.

WEST END—"Selfish," with Katharine Hepburn.

Colored Theaters

AL—"Viva Villa," with Wallace Berry.

ROYAL—"Sadie McKee," with Joan Crawford.

STRAND—"Trail Drive," with Ken Maynard.

FOX NOW

ELISSA LANDI ADOLFE MENOU

GREAT FLIRTATION

PARAMOUNT NOW

SHIRLEY TEMPLE

Baby, Take a Bow James Dunn-Claire Trevor

CAPITOL

STAGE

THE Southland Revue

22-Stage Stars

Hi-Cheer's

Recording Band

"Sing and Like It"

URBAN LEAGUE WEEKLY BULLETIN

(Prepared by Atlanta University.)

For the second successive year seven institutions of higher learning for negroes in Atlanta are conducting for the advantage of colored ministers and other religious workers a four-week ministers' instruction at which these ministers are offered a program of lectures, class discussions and demonstrations covering a wide and useful range of knowledge. This summer the institute is being held at Gammon Theological Seminary and 700 men and women are enrolled. Last year the first of these institutes was held at Morehouse College. Next year, under the policy of rotation, the session will be held at Morris Brown College.

The institute seeks to make available to all irrespective of their denominations and previous academic and professional training, a series of courses in the elements of ministerial training. The 1934 curriculum ranges from a study of the elements of English composition to a series of lectures on the social origins of Christianity, and includes courses in church organization, hymnology, religious education, missionary education, pastoral theology, rural sociology, recreational planning and religious teaching of the people.

In several respects the institute is unique. It is the first combined effort of this character attempted in Georgia. Its faculty this year includes 10 men and women from the teaching staffs of five of the co-operating institutions, as follows: Three from Gammon Theological Seminary, three from Morehouse College, two from Morris Brown College and one each from Spelman College and from the Atlanta School of Social Work. Among its registrants are persons from six states, Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Florida. In this student body are representatives of eight different denominational groups, Methodist, Episcopal, Baptist, A. M. E., A. M. E. (Zion), Holiness, C. M. C., Presbyterian and Adventist.

Georgia naturally has contributed the largest number of registrants, there being 49 enrolled in the institute from 20 cities and towns in this state. Twelve enrolled from Alabama, while one each is registered from Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Florida.

A number of those registering in the institute came to Atlanta early in June to attend the School of Practical Methods, which was conducted by Gammon Theological Seminary and the board of home missions of the Methodist Episcopal church prior to the opening of the institute, and have not stayed for all meetings of the four-week session. However, about 35 persons are regularly attending the daily classes and lectures.

The significance of the institute, according to President Willis J. King, president of Gammon Theological Seminary, is the fact that men and women of a number of evangelical faiths have gathered together to study how they can best minister to their people and in doing so have laid aside their denominational bias and their sectarian viewpoint. The value of such an experience cannot be overestimated, he believes, and he feels that it will naturally lead to greater tolerance and understanding. The institute, furthermore, provides the underprivileged minister with an opportunity to improve himself not merely as a preacher but as an effective worker in his community. It is for this reason that the institute stresses its work on recreation and program-building and emphasizes the study of rural sociology. It is the objective of the institute, moreover, to help the minister to become a more effective pastor of his church. An informal course in the elements of church organization was given this year, in which the keeping of church records, the creation of a library, the making of church budgets and similar subjects were considered. A lecture course in pastoral theology is being offered, which seeks to create a better understanding of the functions of a pastoral office, of the pastor as a friend and his relations to his church.

Realization of the necessity of enriching the life of the negro minister and thereby that of his people has not been forgotten in the building of the curriculum of the summer school. Two hours a week are being devoted to a study of hymnology with a view of helping pastors to gain a fuller appreciation of the great value of hymns and hymn singing in Christian life and worship. To acquaint the preachers with some of the beauty and power that is to be found in the works of the greatest poets a lecture course in the religious teaching of the poets is being given. Both of these courses are being taught by Dr. John Robert Van Pelt, of Gammon Theological Seminary.

As a basic subject of activity, the men and women who are in attendance at the 1934 institute are studying the life of the Apostle Paul under the leadership of Dr. Charles D. Hubert, director of the Morehouse School of Religion. Supplementing this course, in Dr. Hubert's one week's absence at Hampton Institute, President King has been giving instruction in the history of the Psalms.

Sentiment Runs Rife On Screen at Rialto

"The Most Precious Thing in Life," which opened Saturday at the Rialto, is a tearful story about a scrub-woman whose son never knows her. To him she is a mere "Biddy" in a college dormitory, but the hand of steel is hidden under the scrub-woman's cotton glove and it is she who prods the boy into making a man of himself.

Jean Arthur sheds buckets of seemingly genuine tears as Biddy, the mother. She manages, however, to do some very clever acting, during the scenes in the boy's room at college, when she uses practically every principle of applied psychology to make a man out of a spoiled youngster.

Richard Cromwell is boyish and appealing in a role that demands no more. As the son of a rich father and an unknown mother, he sulks and then squares his jaw to meet the world. Anita Louise is beautiful as the girl Cronwell loves. She weeps a good deal too, although Miss Arthur has more convincing tear ducts. Exactly what the most precious thing in life is—that point is left a little indefinite. Judging from a couple of lines in the script, it might be courage and sportsmanship. Judging from the tempo of the film, sacrifice and mother love win the prize. But then again, the ending gives the impression that love is the sweetest thing.

The picture, which is a Columbia production, was adapted from a story which appeared in McCall's magazine by Travis Ingham. The photography is very good on the close-ups, but rather skimpy on distance shots. And the music, which floats in front out of nowhere ever so often, is quite as sentimental as the story itself. Which same is saying a good deal.

LATEST CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR NABES HOLD-UP SUSPECT

Patrolman Homer Damascus Freeman, 62-year-old policeman, who has announced that he will be a candidate for mayor in the September primary, captured a hold-up man Sunday morning.

Freeman arrested a man who gave the name of W. T. Smith, 38, of a Lee street address, and booked him at the police station on "suspicion." The candidate for mayor said he took Smith into custody at Gordon and Lee streets after M. L. Bohler, of 1364 Hardee street, taxicab driver, told the officer Smith had held a pistol on him from a downtown hotel to Gordon street. Candidate Freeman found Smith in a restaurant attempting to dispose of a pistol. He said he also found a blackjack in the man's possession. So he locked him up.

The policeman, a member of the force since 1901, was world's champion trapshooter in 1912 and was formerly custodian of the state capitol and was city humane officer in 1915. He says he intends to qualify soon for the race as the city's chief executive.

GEORGIAN KILLS SELF AT JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 1.—(AP)—The sheriff's office reported that Edward Ulrich Burnette, 31, former resident of Covington, Ga., hanged himself Saturday in a county jail while awaiting a sanity hearing.

The officers said Burnette was taken into custody Friday after he had tried to obtain a gun at a store here. The shopkeeper told officers Burnette said he wanted to kill himself and would jump into the St. Johns river if he failed to get a gun.

Burnette, authorities said, is survived by his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. James O. Burnette; a sister and three brothers, all of Covington, Ga.

MOROLINE ASK FOR WHITE PETROLEUM JELLY

MRS. MARION PERDUE TO BE BURIED TODAY

Beloved Atlanta Woman Will Be Laid to Rest in West View Cemetery.

Funeral services for Mrs. Marion Savannah Perdue, widow of the late John Albert Perdue, who died in her 78th year Saturday night after an extended illness, will be conducted at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Peachtree Christian church, of which she was a charter member. The Rev. J. C. Bricker and the Rev. Robert Burns will officiate. Burial will be in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

A charter member of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Perdue devoted much of her time to the affairs of the church and was president of the altar guild and president-emeritus of the women's council.

A leader in D. A. R. and U. D. C. activities, it was through her efforts that the new chapter house of the U. D. C. on Juniper street was built. She was honorary state president of the U. D. C. and twice president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C. Her greatest interest were attendant to the Confederate Soldiers' Home of Georgia, of which she was state chairman.

All members of the patriotic organizations with which Mrs. Perdue was affiliated are requested to meet at the Peachtree Christian church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Perdue is survived by six of her eight children: four daughters, Mrs. John A. Boykin, Mrs. George F. Yundt, Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey and in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

A charter member of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Perdue devoted much of her time to the affairs of the church and was president of the altar guild and president-emeritus of the women's council.

A leader in D. A. R. and U. D. C. activities, it was through her efforts that the new chapter house of the U. D. C. on Juniper street was built. She was honorary state president of the U. D. C. and twice president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C. Her greatest interest were attendant to the Confederate Soldiers' Home of Georgia, of which she was state chairman.

All members of the patriotic organizations with which Mrs. Perdue was affiliated are requested to meet at the Peachtree Christian church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Perdue is survived by six of her eight children: four daughters, Mrs. John A. Boykin, Mrs. George F. Yundt, Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey and in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

A charter member of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Perdue devoted much of her time to the affairs of the church and was president of the altar guild and president-emeritus of the women's council.

A leader in D. A. R. and U. D. C. activities, it was through her efforts that the new chapter house of the U. D. C. on Juniper street was built. She was honorary state president of the U. D. C. and twice president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C. Her greatest interest were attendant to the Confederate Soldiers' Home of Georgia, of which she was state chairman.

All members of the patriotic organizations with which Mrs. Perdue was affiliated are requested to meet at the Peachtree Christian church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Perdue is survived by six of her eight children: four daughters, Mrs. John A. Boykin, Mrs. George F. Yundt, Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey and in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

A charter member of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Perdue devoted much of her time to the affairs of the church and was president of the altar guild and president-emeritus of the women's council.

A leader in D. A. R. and U. D. C. activities, it was through her efforts that the new chapter house of the U. D. C. on Juniper street was built. She was honorary state president of the U. D. C. and twice president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C. Her greatest interest were attendant to the Confederate Soldiers' Home of Georgia, of which she was state chairman.

All members of the patriotic organizations with which Mrs. Perdue was affiliated are requested to meet at the Peachtree Christian church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Perdue is survived by six of her eight children: four daughters, Mrs. John A. Boykin, Mrs. George F. Yundt, Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey and in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

A charter member of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Perdue devoted much of her time to the affairs of the church and was president of the altar guild and president-emeritus of the women's council.

A leader in D. A. R. and U. D. C. activities, it was through her efforts that the new chapter house of the U. D. C. on Juniper street was built. She was honorary state president of the U. D. C. and twice president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C. Her greatest interest were attendant to the Confederate Soldiers' Home of Georgia, of which she was state chairman.

All members of the patriotic organizations with which Mrs. Perdue was affiliated are requested to meet at the Peachtree Christian church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Perdue is survived by six of her eight children: four daughters, Mrs. John A. Boykin, Mrs. George F. Yundt, Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey and in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

A charter member of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Perdue devoted much of her time to the affairs of the church and was president of the altar guild and president-emeritus of the women's council.

A leader in D. A. R. and U. D. C. activities, it was through her efforts that the new chapter house of the U. D. C. on Juniper street was built. She was honorary state president of the U. D. C. and twice president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C. Her greatest interest were attendant to the Confederate Soldiers' Home of Georgia, of which she was state chairman.

All members of the patriotic organizations with which Mrs. Perdue was affiliated are requested to meet at the Peachtree Christian church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Perdue is survived by six of her eight children: four daughters, Mrs. John A. Boykin, Mrs. George F. Yundt, Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey and in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

A charter member of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Perdue devoted much of her time to the affairs of the church and was president of the altar guild and president-emeritus of the women's council.

A leader in D. A. R. and U. D. C. activities, it was through her efforts that the new chapter house of the U. D. C. on Juniper street was built. She was honorary state president of the U. D. C. and twice president of the Atlanta chapter, U. D. C. Her greatest interest were attendant to the Confederate Soldiers' Home of Georgia, of which she was state chairman.

All members of the patriotic organizations with which Mrs. Perdue was affiliated are requested to meet at the Peachtree Christian church at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Mrs. Perdue is survived by six of her eight children: four daughters, Mrs. John A. Boykin, Mrs. George F. Yundt, Mrs. Edwin F. Yancey and in West View cemetery. H. M. Patterson & Son are in charge.

A charter member of the Peachtree Christian church, Mrs. Perdue devoted much of her time to the affairs of the church and was president of the altar guild and president-emeritus of the women's council.

Mrs. Robert S. Quin, all of Atlanta; two sons, Graham Perdue, of Atlanta, and Edward Perdue, of Clarkdale, Miss.; 17 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

YOUTHFUL BURGLAR BEHIND BARS AGAIN AFTER WEEK "OUT"

Unable to convince a policeman that Solicitor-General John A. Boykin had arranged for him to be released from the county industrial farm, Harold Thacker, 16, who said he lived at 235 Dodd avenue, was arrested early Sunday morning at Lakewood park by Patrolman J. H. Langley and jailed on "suspicion."

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

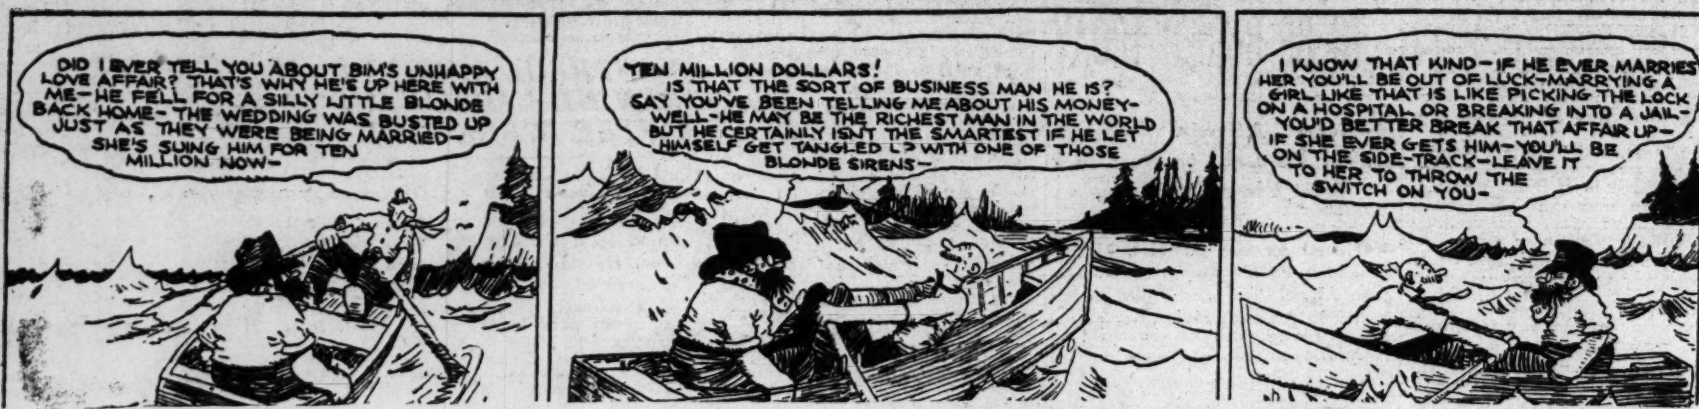

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker as the youth who had confessed to a series of sensational burglaries in Atlanta last year and was sentenced to the county industrial farm until he had attained his majority.

Questioned by Patrolman Langley, Thacker said that the automobile he was driving belonged to a friend; that Solicitor-General Boykin "had arranged for the release from the industrial farm" and that he had not escaped from the farm.

Investigation by City Detectives Leonard Satterfield and George Barkin had revealed, however, that Thacker escaped from the industrial farm a week ago and that the car he was driving was reported stolen Saturday morning by Gus Zoflow, 771 Washington street, who told police he had parked it under the Wall street plaza and returned to find it gone about 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

Patrolman Langley recognized Thacker

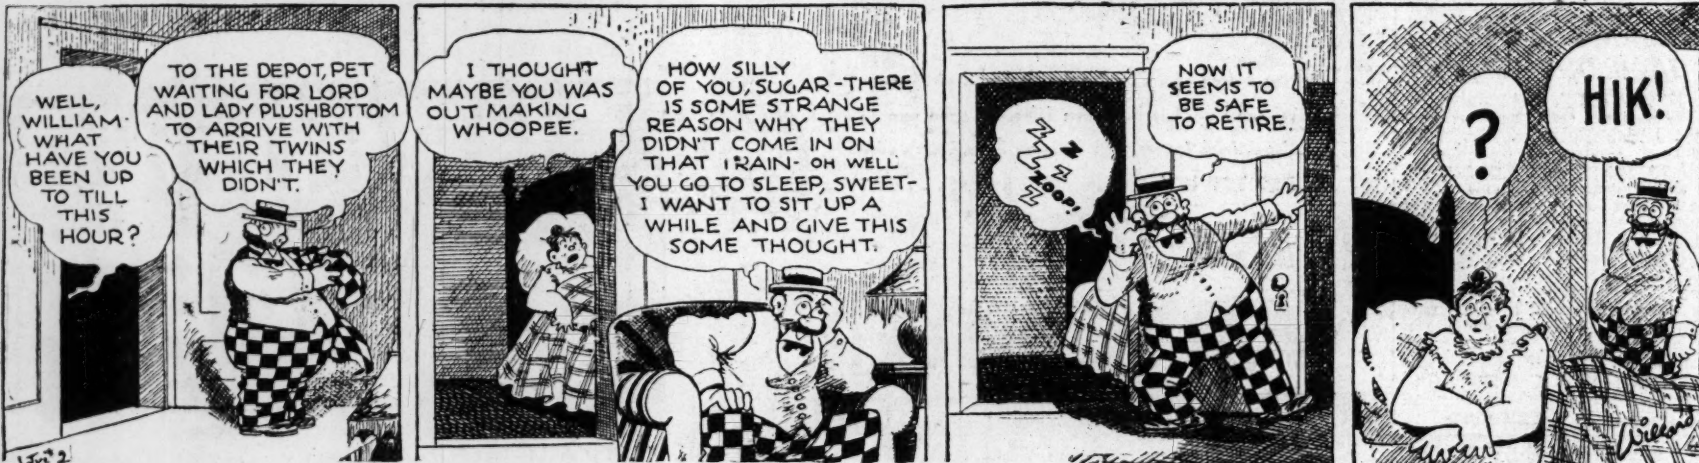

THE GUMPS—SAILOR BEWARE

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—SHE SEES BY THE PAPER

MOON MULLINS—TIME TO RETIRE—IN THE OPPOSITE DIRECTION

DICK TRACY—The Silent Guest

SMITTY—BULLY FOR THEM!

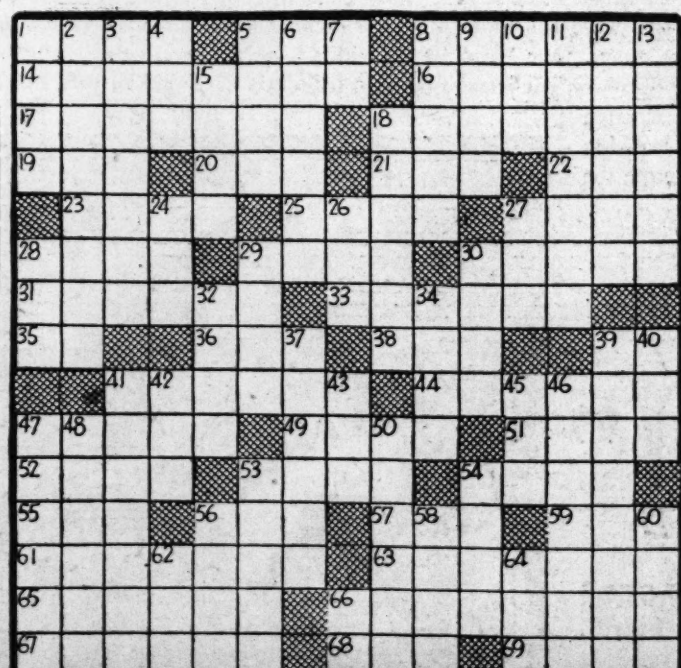

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER—

Today's Cross Word Puzzle

- ACROSS
- 1 Girdle.
 - 5 Dutch liquid measure: var.
 - 8 Shunned.
 - 14 Three-cornered thing.
 - 16 Strip.
 - 17 Parentless children.
 - 18 Tender sprig.
 - 19 Explosive sound.
 - 20 To match.
 - 21 Inset.
 - 22 Dined.
 - 23 Taunt.
 - 25 Recedes, as water.
 - 27 Nautical mile.
 - 28 Sensible.
 - 29 Of the mouth.
 - 30 Mother of pearl.
 - 31 Heavenly creatures.
 - 32 Distant.
 - 33 That thing.
 - 34 Unwell.
 - 38 Light brown.
 - 39 Artificial language.
 - 41 To dupe.
 - 44 Harvester.
 - 47 Desire greatly.
 - 49 Insincere talk.
 - 51 Mature.
 - 52 Stormy temper.
 - 53 Oriental sorcerers.
 - 54 Wan.
 - 55 Incite.
 - 56 Greasy liquid.
 - 57 Bird.
 - 59 100,000 rupees.
 - 61 Laments.
 - 63 Fruit in syrup.
 - 65 Young bird of prey.
 - 66 Mended.
 - 67 Scoffs.
 - 68 Beam of burden.
 - 69 Crematory fire.
 - DOWN
 - 1 Cessation.
 - 2 Haughty.
 - 3 Drinking slowly.
 - 24 Buzzing insect.
 - 26 Hold back.
 - 27 Arabian plant similar to tea.
 - 28 Capuchin monkey.
 - 29 Modern Christiania.
 - 30 Not one.
 - 32 Vitality.
 - 34 Market.
 - 37 Frequently stopping trains.
 - 39 Rapid-firing rifle.
 - 40 Metallic rock.
 - 41 Trunks.
 - 42 Pubels.
 - 42 Garden dweller.
 - 43 Drag behind.
 - 45 Constellation.
 - 46 Punish in the "stocks."
 - 47 Rough fabrics.
 - 48 Loose, large-sleeved overcoat.
 - 50 Feminine relatives.
 - 53 Catchers.
 - 54 Cougar.
 - 56 Something extraordinary: slang.
 - 58 Clean.
 - 60 Surrender.
 - 62 "— de France."
 - 64 Apple seed.
 - 66 Egyptian deity.

RESTLESS WOMEN
BY JANE DIXON

FINAL INSTALLMENT.

"Drive slowly, please," she ordered. And began scanning the numbers along the street. She saw Steve's number—the long sleek car ahead stopped there. "Draw to the curb, quickly!" The taxi swung in. Sandra watched the chauffeur of the town car dismount and open the door. A woman stepped out, tall and slender and blonde. She glanced up and down the street. Sandra leaned down so that the taxi would appear to be empty. When she looked again the woman was disappearing through the street door. Valerie, in that house with Stephen Hale!

Sandra did not stop to argue the wisdom of what she was about to do. She leaped from the taxi, ordered the driver to wait, ran down the street, up the steps.

"I'm to see Mr. Hale," she told the man who answered her ring. "Mr. Hale is out. This is a bachelor apartment."

"I know," she smiled straight into the man's eyes, a friendly, intimate smile. "I'm from the theater. I have a message for Mr. Hale from the director—and these papers." She indicated some letters and the script of the skit she was carrying. "He's expecting me."

The man stopped aside. "You'll find him at the top of the stairs, rear. There's a card on his door." A moment later Sandra rapped sharply on the door. Without waiting for a reply, she pushed it open.

The place was a snarl of papers, books, magazines, manuscripts. Steve's back was toward the door. He was clearing the tangle off one chair and piling it on another. Valerie was standing by the window, her slant eyes averted. At sight of Sandra the color drained from her cheeks. Her chin came up defiantly. She helped herself to a cigaret from a tray on a bookshelf.

"Hi, Sandy," she said. "Steve's women seem to have gotten themselves into a traffic jam today."

"Sandy!" Steve dropped the papers he was holding, came toward her. He really should take up acting, Sandra thought. One would suppose he was glad to have her here.

"I'm sorry," she said. She felt suddenly old and weary and wise beyond endurance. "I didn't know. Now that I'm here, Steve, would you mind leaving me alone for a moment with Val?"

Valerie ordered. "Nothing Sandy has to say would possibly interest me."

"You'll hear it just the same," Steel points in Sandra's eyes glittered.

ed a menace. "If you'd like an audience, Steve may remain."

Valerie shrugged her shoulders. Sly Val, fearful, hiding behind her mask of loveliness. "Of course, if you insist on intruding I'm sure Steve will excuse us a moment."

Stephen was watching Sandra. Never had he seen her so—cold, hard, metallic. Hate in her eyes for Valerie, contempt for him, searing.

"I'm afraid I can't excuse you—that is, just yet," he said. "I don't think Sandy understands how you happen to be here, Val."

Valerie's smile was bitter and twisted. "Need she understand?"

"I think so," Steve said. Valerie crossed to him. Her hand was on his arm, persuasive. "She should not have come—spying."

"I don't believe Sandy had an idea of spying," Stephen said, and moved away from the clinging hand. "Be—side, I'd like to think that is, I hope that whatever I do does concern Sandy."

"Steve. How can you—after last night!" Now Valerie's strangled screams were breaking through hands clinging again.

"Valerie!" Steve rasped Val's wrists, forced her backward into a chair. "I don't know what you're driving at, but I insist on clearing myself with Sandra. Sandy, Val came here last night. She seemed to be in great distress about something. She asked me to help her. She couldn't tell what it was then. I went with her, took her places she wanted to go. She was nervous and unstrung. It was morning before she'd allow me to take her home. She got some sort of foolish notion she—cared about me. Result of too much champagne. I asked her not to come here today. She promised. You see, she came. It's happened several times—her asking me to help her and then finding she couldn't tell me what it was that she needed helping."

Valerie struggled to release her wrists. Sandra stood still. The cock-eyed world was a whirligig plane and Sandra was a top spinning, trying to keep from skidding off the edges.

"Release her, Steve. There's nothing you can do. There's nothing any one can do. Val's just plain rotten."

Stephen freed Valerie's wrists. She sat there limp, venom in her eyes. "Oh yes, I'm rotten," she laughed harshly. "It's a family trait." Then she struggled to her feet. "I'll be running along. I hadn't a notion when I came to Steve's rooms that I was breaking into your love nest. Isn't it?"

THE END.
(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Aunt Het

"A bus looks nice, but its horn don't make you wish you was going some place like a train whistle does." (Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

SALLY'S SALLIES

A woman can't get rid of her troubles by advertising them.

JUST NUTS

Solution of Saturday's Puzzle.

SHOP CEDAR SLAB
TELL ENILE HOBO
ERIA MAINE ROUB
PROSPECT PLINTH
STREET CONFETTI
THIRD BURST RAN
RAPS FALSE TEST
ONE HOLLY CRATE PERFORMS CHIDER
OPES DAUB
ACUMEN SUNBURNI
VOTE ALAND NOAH
EVEN MERCI ALTO
REST EGGED NEER

"BORN TO BE KISSED"

By Anita Loos and John Emerson

Fatherless at birth, with a pretty, irresponsible woman for a mother, only some sixth sense, the instinct of self-preservation, had kept Eadie what she was—wise with a shrewd, Broadway kind of wisdom, balanced by an engaging naive childishness which made her feel that the shortest distance between two points was the old-fashioned straight line—marriage.

You'll love this plucky chorus girl. The first installment of "Born to Be Kissed" will be published tomorrow, on this page.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

DRY WEATHER.

The past spring brought even more talk than usual about the weather. In vast areas of central Canada, and in half the states of the United States, drought made farmers fearful about their crops. There was reason to fear. The long dry spell brought damage to grain and other growing things in an area of more than 2,000,000 square miles.

That would mean smaller crops, and the drought area could not support so many people as at present. People live where the rain falls. They live in dry places, too, but not in nearly such large numbers. Arizona is a beautiful state, but with close to 114,000 square miles of land it has a population today of hardly 450,000—four to the square mile.

Nevada, another dry state, is not so healthful as Arizona. It has an average of less than one person to the square mile! Compare that with California, which has 36 persons to the square mile.

Irrigation, the giving of water to dry places, has turned desert lands into gardens; and is man's answer to lack of rain over a period of many years. Big dams are built, canals are dug, and the thirsty soil is given enough to drink.

If the drought area should have the same ill fortune year after year, there would be mighty efforts to make irrigation take the place of rainfall; but the chances are that Nature will be more kind in the future than during 1934.

(For Science or General Interest section of your scrapbook.)

If you want the free leaflet, "Questions and Answers About Europe," send a 3-cent stamped, return envelope to me in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Uncle Ray

Tomorrow—Dust Storms and Si-moons.
(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Uncle Ray,
Care of The Constitution,
Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Uncle Ray: I enclose a stamped envelope addressed to myself. Please send me the 1934 membership certificate, the leaflet telling how to prepare a Corner scrapbook, and the printed cover design to paste on the scrapbook which I plan to make.

Name

Street or Rural Route

City or Village

State or Province

SOUTHEASTERN BOARD MEETS AT SEA ISLAND

Preliminary Plans Laid for Drive for Tourists Into Section.

SEA ISLAND BEACH, Ga., July 1.—(AP)—A movement to organize a campaign in the southeast to give this area its "fair share of the $4,000,000,000 spent annually by American tourists" was put under way at a week-end meeting of prominent businessmen here.

W. States Lee Jr., chairman of the organization committee of the Southeastern Development Board, telling a committee meeting of the amount spent annually by tourists, said that "while individual communities are carrying on advertising campaigns in the southeast, a joint effort has been proved to be most effective in other sections of the country. Competition for the tourist trade is becoming more intense. Community efforts are being made in many western and middle western states, New England, Canada, and 16 foreign countries."

A group of prominent businessmen of the six southeastern states attended the meeting here yesterday as guests at the Clifton hotel of Howard E. Coffin, one of the sponsors of the movement. Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia; L. W. Robert Jr., assistant secretary of the treasury; Cator Woolford and Ivan Allen, of Atlanta; John T. Alsop Jr., mayor of Jacksonville, Fla.; C. C. Carr, industrial councillor formerly for St. Petersburg; Lindsey Russell, of Wilmington; E. George Butler, of Savannah; Alfred W. Jones, of Sea Island; and Jackson Matthews and Hubert Malin, public relations and research counsel who have been assisting the committee, were among those attending. Lee said governors of the six southeastern states have endorsed the general program of the Southeastern Development Board to co-ordinate activities in the area in the advertising and promotion of tourist travel, industrial development and the attraction of permanent settlers.

A detailed outline of the board's program is being prepared for submission to the advisory board of governors at a future meeting when the campaign will be launched formally. Meanwhile, Lee said, the governors of North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Florida and Alabama have been requested to appoint in their states citizens to serve as directors of the board's executive committee. Each state will have equal representation. Governor Dave Sholtz, of Florida, it was announced, already has named Mayor Alsop, Edward Ball,

Lorenzo Wilson, Henry L. Doherty and E. G. Sewell as the nucleus of the committee to act for Florida.

Travel Increasing.
Mayor Alsop said Florida, with an estimated 1,500,000 out-of-state visitors, had enjoyed the greatest season in its history.

"While the bulk of them went to Miami, all sections of Florida shared in the tourist revenue. Jacksonville's industrial and wholesale enjoyed an increase in business from serving the needs of these visitors. Many of them came by automobile, and the whole state shared in the increased gasoline tax which they paid."

"And the states to the north—Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina—received some profit in gasoline tax and other expenditures of these tourists en route to Florida. Furthermore, many of our retail stores in Florida buy from wholesale dealers in Atlanta and other cities in the southeastern states, so that they also benefited from the great increase in the number of Florida visitors last season."

Senator George told the committee that general business conditions warranted the expectation of continued increasing travel during the years just ahead.

"Co-operation of public officials and private business in the southeastern states will enable us to greatly increase the effectiveness of our effort to attract visitors and develop industries," the senator said.

The Southeastern Development Board was initiated at a meeting in Charlotte, May 17.

YEGGS CAPTURED AFTER LONG HUNT

Continued From First Page.

ments and started a search. Jarrett and Henry were found hiding beneath beer cases on the second floor. They had entered by sawing the bars on a rear window of the second floor, the officers said.

Weapons and tear gas guns were carried to the scene by Radio Patrolmen M. D. Cartwright, H. G. Brice, Ed Blair and A. G. Stone and Lieutenant O. R. Jones, who answered the call for help from the detectives. Jarrett and Henry surrendered without a struggle. They are held on "suspicion."

Safecracking implements and gloves were found in their possession, it was reported. McCarty and Davis early Monday morning arrested Mrs. Jackie Cato, 36, whom they said they found in Henry's apartment at 529 Boulevard. She also is held on "suspicion" and will be questioned by the officers. Police said a quantity of nitroglycerine and dynamite caps were found at the Tru-Bu building after Henry and Jarrett had been taken away.

J. C. Stull, manager of the beer distributors, said the company had been robbed twice recently and there was no money in the safe.

FOSTER HUNTER JOINS BLANCHARD BROTHERS

Well-Known Undertaker Was Formerly Member of Council for Eight Years.

Foster L. Hunter, widely known Atlanta undertaker, has become connected with Blanchard Brothers Funeral Home, 1088 Peachtree street.

FOSTER L. HUNTER.

and will take over his new duties today, it was announced Sunday.

Hunter has been in the undertaking business for 25 years. He formerly was mayor pro tem of Atlanta and was alderman from 1923 to 1926, having served as a councilman previously from 1919 to 1923.

He has been active in the Western Heights Baptist church and served as superintendent of the Sunday school and as a deacon in the church. He resides at 1096 Piedmont avenue, N. E.

Henry M. Blanchard and Hunter were associated in business together for several years prior to 1926 in the firm of Hunter, Blanchard Company, in Ivy street. Since that time Hunter has been in business for himself and has had connections with other undertaking companies.

Chester L. Long, 74, Dies in Washington

WASHINGTON, July 1.—(AP)—Chester L. Long, former United States senator from Kansas and one-time president of the American Bar Association, died here today after a brief illness.

He was 74 years old. In Washington he was a member of the law firm of Long, St. Lewis and Nye, and at the time of his death was chairman of the American Bar Association's committee on revision of the securities act of 1933.

Long was elected president of the American Bar Association in 1925 and served one year. Three daughters survive—Mrs. Harry F. Gee Jr., of Atlanta, Ga.; Mrs. W. E. Stanley, of Wichita, Kan.; and Mrs. Roger S. Hurd, of Chicago.

Steps From Auto And Dies Instantly

GRiffin, Ga., July 1.—Mrs. Irene Mills, 40, was instantly killed here today when she fell on her head upon stepping from a moving automobile.

Mrs. Mills, having hailed a ride for two blocks, was standing on the running board when the car reached her destination, and did not wait for the car to stop before alighting.

She is survived by one small daughter and three brothers, Mick, Oda and Sam Lynch, all of Jackson. Funeral announcements have not been announced.

ATLANTAN KILLED IN BAXLEY CRASH

Continued From First Page.

Beattie street, at Oak and West Whitehall streets.

She was treated at Grady hospital and then was taken to her home. Police made cases of driving while drunk against both Logue and Harris.

Miss Virginia Hart, about 18, of 1145 Peachtree street, was confined to the Crawford W. Long hospital Sunday with injuries she received early Sunday morning. The car in which she was riding with Frank C. Wilkerson, 19, of 19 Eleventh street, N. E., swerved from the highway and crashed into a telephone pole on Piedmont near Roxboro road between 12 and 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

Wilkerson, a student at the University of Georgia, was severely cut and bruised but was taken to his home after treatment at the Crawford Long hospital.

Attaches at the hospital said Miss Hart passed a fairly good day Sunday. She suffered bruises and lacerations.

A short time later, at Edgewood and Piedmont avenues, Gus Strauss, of 332 Ponce de Leon avenue, received severe cuts about the face and arm when the car in which he was riding with Edwin Haas Jr., of 140 Waverly way, N. E., collided with an ice truck. Police made cases of reckless driving against Haas and M. J. Teasley, negro driver of the ice truck. Strauss was treated at Grady hospital and dismissed.

Two Hurt in Collision.
Homer Greer, 19, and Earl Moore, 19, both of Porterdale, Ga., were rushed to Emory University hospital Sunday afternoon in a DeKalb county police car after their automobile had collided with another car on the Lithonia road in front of Deun's filling station.

At the hospital, Greer was said to be badly injured, with a possible fracture of the skull. Moore was less injured, though both men were suffering from severe shock and were unable to give a coherent account of the accident.

DeKalb county police who investigated the accident reported that the car in which Greer and Moore were riding attempted to pass another automobile which also was coming toward Atlanta and ran head-on into the automobile driven by C. H. St. John, of 835 Albion avenue, which was going toward Lithonia.

Though St. John's car was badly damaged, he as well as his wife, two daughters and his father, who were in the car at the time, escaped injury. Mrs. Oscar Williamson, 23 Fourth avenue, N. E., was reported as "resting easier" Sunday at Emory University hospital where she was taken Saturday afternoon with severe injuries about the face and head when her automobile skidded on East Lake road and crashed against a curb.

PHYSICIAN SAYS HE GOT PARDON FOR KNOWLES

Dr. O. C. Gibson, of Macon, Asserts Stewart Had Nothing To Do With Case.

MACON, Ga., July 1.—Dr. O. C. Gibson, Bibb county physician, today made public an affidavit in which he has assumed responsibility for obtaining a pardon for Sam Knowles, a life-term convict, whom Judge Claude C. Pittman, of Cartersville, one of Governor Eugene Talmadge's two opponents for re-election, has charged was obtained through Charles E. Stewart, a Talmadge supporter with whom Pittman had a near clash in Atlanta last week.

Dr. Gibson said that Stewart had nothing to do with the pardon for Knowles, adding that he took charge of the case at the request of a number of prominent Maconians. He said Bibb county official said that he was not taking sides in the governor's race but was making the affidavit in justice to Stewart. The affidavit follows:

"Georgia, Bibb County: 'Personally appeared before the undersigned authority, O. C. Gibson, who, on oath, deposes and says that he has been a practicing physician for 50 years; that he has been county physician for Bibb county 30 odd years; and that he is personally well acquainted with Sam Knowles and has known him for six or seven years.

"That said Sam Knowles, when on the Bibb county chain gang six or seven years and in the opinion of deponent he was one of the best prisoners he has ever known. Some time the first part of this year some Christian ladies of this county, who were very much interested in the parole of Mr. Knowles, came to deponent and asked his assistance. Deponent went up to Atlanta, called at the prison commission's office, and asked for the records in the Knowles case.

"Deponent found in the records a number of very strong letters in his behalf. One of the strongest that impressed deponent most was from his mother-in-law. This letter impressed deponent very much of his innocence. Deponent, therefore, made up his mind to help said Knowles gain his freedom.

"Later deponent went before the prison commission, as said Knowles had no money whatever to pay him or an attorney, and deponent paid his own expenses in said trips to Atlanta and back. He did not receive anything. The prison commission very promptly and unanimously recommended his parole. Deponent then went before Governor Talmadge and advised him of the facts. He urged the pardon of Knowles. After the governor reviewed the entire record and was convinced that the conviction was obtained on circumstantial evidence, he granted the pardon to said Knowles. Deponent is in view of the recommendation of the prison commission, the governor was convinced that the ends of justice would be met by placing Knowles on parole.

"Judge Pittman, in his speech at Augusta Friday night, June 29, made the statement that Mr. Charles E. Stewart was responsible for the Sam Knowles parole. Deponent wants to say that this statement of Judge Pittman is erroneous, for the reason that Mr. Charles E. Stewart had nothing on earth to do with this case and has never had anything to do with it.

"Deponent is taking no part in the governor's race in behalf of either candidate for the governorship, but this affidavit is made in justice to Mr. Charles E. Stewart.

"Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 30th day of June, 1934.

"S. GUS JONES, Notary Public, Bibb County, Georgia."

Cold Storage Plant Wrecked by Blast

A terrific explosion which rocked adjoining buildings, wrecked the cold storage plant at the Standard Brands, Inc., sales agency building, 635 West Peachtree street, shortly before 7 o'clock Sunday night.

Windows and skylights were smashed and doors were torn from their hinges by the force of the explosion. Radio Patrolmen Ramsauer and Tate, first to reach the scene, said the blast was caused by a gas stove and an electric motor. The two were in the same room and the officers said evidently the pilot light of the water heating stove had gone out and allowed the room to become filled with gas. The electric motor, set to control refrigeration in the cold storage plant, started and ignited the gas.

Glass in the windows of the residence of Mrs. L. J. Miles, at 639 West Peachtree street, were shattered. There was no one in the sales agency at the time and Lee Holley, of the Bonaventure Arms apartments, manager of the agency, could not be located to give an estimate of the damage. The explosion was heard several blocks away by the radio patrolmen.

Former Atlanta Man Slain in Wisconsin

JEFFERSON, Wis., July 1.—(AP)—Earl Gentry, 47, an Atlanta, Ga., co-defendant with D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Indiana Ku Klux Klan, in a murder trial in 1925, was found shot to death in his automobile near a swimming pool here late today.

Gentry had been shot in the head and badly beaten. The body was slumped on the floor of the car which, police said, was first seen parked near the pool about midnight Saturday.

IT WAS BAD ENOUGH TO HAVE SO MUCH PAIN FROM INDIGESTION... BUT THE BELCHING AND THE SOUR GAS WERE MUCH WORSE. BUT THAT'S ALL BEHIND ME. I'VE BEEN USING PLACIDAN AND IT'S GIVEN ME THE LASTING RELIEF THAT THE OTHER THINGS I'VE TRIED... DIDN'T GIVE.

W. H. Corder, N.Y.C.

RELIEVE HEARTBURN - ACID STOMACH - BELCHING with Placidan - the new antacid

Placidan relieves acidity of the stomach—and attacks its cause! Its four powerful antacids keep your stomach sweet for hours! The safe way to get relief from a sour, "burning" stomach, from dizziness, belching, flat gas, is to take Placidan. It tastes pleasant. All drug stores carry it.

Placidan the double-action stomach relief

Caroline Miller Offers New Hope To Would-Be Feminine Novelists

(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution and North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.) INDIANAPOLIS, July 1.—Every young writer can write a prize-winning novel, Caroline Miller believes. Mrs. Miller should be an authority, for her "Lamb in His Bosom" won the 1934 Pulitzer prize for the best novel of the year.

The 30-year-old Baxley (Ga.) housewife, here for the national convention of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary fraternity for women in journalism, explains: "If I can write a prize-winning novel, so can you. You can do what you want to do. 'The Lamb' proves that, believe me."

"I never had a lesson in writing," she continued. "The 'Lamb' was in me, and I had to write it. When you write, as I did, with your heart's blood, don't worry about what people say. When critics assail me, do you know what I tell them? 'Go and write one yourself.' The mere physical achievement of stringing 100,000 words together means much."

"Folks ask me how in the world I ever found time to write a novel with three children, a boy of seven and twin boys of five. That's easy. How do other women find time to play bridge four hours a day? It's all a matter of choice. There are too many lovely things in this world to do them all justice. So we do what we want most to do. I mean we do, if we once quit dabbling and get down to work. I wanted to write. So I wrote. I believe it or not—has two, and the boys were not playing, I wrote."

"The reaction of the town was amusing. For years I had been pointed out as the 'lady with the twins.' When I became still more of a freak, folks pointed me out with even greater interest. 'Look, there's the lady that's writing a book.' Now they are still more, for by some weird mathematics and rumor they have multiplied many times what I am getting paid for my book. Now the whisper gets '$750 every day for a book she wrote!'

"Don't let people tell you there is no drama in your life, or that your story is too colorless for novel material. If you can't find the novel in someone else's life, look into your own. Don't let them fool you. They told me no one was interested in south Georgia, that dialect was out of style, that I was too far from the publishers. I didn't mind that. Now I am convinced that it is not plots or ideas that are needed, but writers! Perhaps you don't have any Georgia pines to write about, but there is something else quite as lovely in your life. I am certain of that. There never was another you. Write the way you feel it."

"If I ever had a sermon to preach, it would be the same one twice Sunday and again on prayer meeting night. The text would be from Shelley's 'Ode to the West Wind,' the part that goes like this: 'Scatter, from an unextinguished hearth, Ashes and sparks, my words among mankind! Be through my lips to unawakened earth The trumpet of a prophecy! Oh, wind, If winter comes, can spring be far behind?' 'There's my personal literary creed.' In speaking of the rewards that come with being a "successful" novelist."

LOUIS JAMES BUSH. COLUMBUS, Ga., July 1.—Last night for Louis James Bush, 32, who died at his residence Friday night after a lingering illness, were held this afternoon. He is survived by one son, Roland Bush; one daughter, Nellie Mae Bush; one sister, Mrs. Mattie Lolla; two brothers, John Bush and Bunk Bush, and one uncle, Jack Lollar.

MANHATTAN BUNT. COLUMBUS, Ga., July 1.—Funeral services for Manham Bunt, 25, who was killed when struck by a piece of machinery at a sawmill, were held Sunday afternoon in Columbus. The Rev. J. W. Yarbrough, pastor of the Catholic Methodist church, officiated.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Bunt, of Atlanta, he is survived by a brother, W. E. Bunt, of Atlanta; six sisters, Mrs. A. I. Britton, Mrs. J. T. Lester, Mrs. Guy Preterrell, Mrs. E. E. Hughes and Mrs. D. Everett, all of Columbus, and Mrs. Len Layton, of Chicago, and several nephews and nieces.

LOUIS JAMES BUSH. COLUMBUS, Ga., July 1.—Last night for Louis James Bush, 32, who died at his residence Friday night after a lingering illness, were held this afternoon. He is survived by one son, Roland Bush; one daughter, Nellie Mae Bush; one sister, Mrs. Mattie Lolla; two brothers, John Bush and Bunk Bush, and one uncle, Jack Lollar.

MRS. ANNIE M. SISSON PASSES AT HAPEVILLE

Mrs. Annie Mae Sisson, whose late husband, John Sisson, was a member of Atlanta council, died Sunday afternoon at her residence at 45 Central avenue, Hapeville. She was 65.

The late Mr. Sisson served several terms in council representing the fifth ward. Mrs. Sisson had been ill for some time. She is survived by four sons, J. H., and C. M. Sisson, of Hapeville; F. S. Sisson, of Atlanta; and R. L. Sisson, of Macon; two daughters, Mrs. L. J. Bishop, of Atlanta, and Mrs. T. L. Chappelle, of Knoxville, Tenn., and a sister, Mrs. Ida Allerman, of Atlanta.

Funeral rites will be held at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning at the chapel of Donehoo-Brandon-Pruitt Company and interment will be in West View cemetery.

"CHEAP" Cleaning loses its appeal against Stoddard VALUE

Today, more than ever, the trend in Atlanta demands honest cleaning, skillful work.

50¢

"CASH-at-COUNTER"

for craftsmanlike cleaning

Any PLAIN "STREET" DRESS

WOOL or LINEN SUIT

6 Convenient Stores

For Service to Your Home 65¢

Telephone HEmlock 8900

Stoddard CLEANERS

NEXT WINTER

YOU might like to keep your home as warm as it is now. You probably wouldn't, but whatever temperature you prefer you may have with Natural Gas heat.

And you may have it by merely setting your thermostat and forgetting about it. No more effort than that. No ordering and storing fuel. No fighting smoke and grime. No furnace tending. No hauling ashes. Heating will be no longer a problem.

The cost of Natural Gas heat will probably be less than you imagine. Compare your home with the one shown. That will give you an idea. We will be glad to give you an accurate estimate, without obligation. Just call JA. 5101 and ask for the house heating department.

$6.83 TO heat THIS HOME WITH Gas

This 7-room home, located at 409 Clairmont Avenue, Decatur, enjoyed the carefree convenience of natural gas heat during the past winter for $63.83.

ATLANTA GAS LIGHT COMPANY.

By W. H. Winter Vice President and General Manager

West End East Point Decatur Marietta

WHAT A BARGAIN - AND REAL MAYONNAISE, TOO!

BEST FOODS MAYONNAISE NOW ACTUALLY AS LOW AS 12¢

FULL HALF PINT FULL PINT AS LOW AS 22¢

Best Foods GOLDEN EYE Mayonnaise

NOTICE

The undersigned banks, members of The Atlanta Clearing House Association Will Observe

Independence Day

Wednesday, July 4, 1934

and will transact no banking business on that date.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF ATLANTA
CITIZENS & SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK
THE FULTON NATIONAL BANK OF ATLANTA
TRUST COMPANY OF GEORGIA

NOW---No Extra Fare ON TRAINS NOS. 37 AND 38

Effective June 28th, 1934, extra fare between Atlanta, New York, Washington, New Orleans and intermediate stations was withdrawn.

Present high-class sleeping car equipment and convenient schedules will be continued with the addition of comfortable coach accommodations.

Ask Ticket Agents about greatly reduced fares and sleeping car reservations.

E. F. BARRY, A. G. P. A., 87 LUCKIE STREET, N. W.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY SYSTEM

IT'S UP TO THE WOMEN

By Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt

Following is one of a series of 60 articles in which the First Lady of the Land tells what she thinks about a variety of subjects close to the heart of all modern women. Every word has been written by Mrs. Roosevelt herself.

XXXVII — RECIPES FOR TUESDAY.

Breakfast
Oatmeal Milk Sugar Whole
Wheat Toast
Butter, Milk for Children, Coffee for Adults

Dinner
Hot Stuffed Eggs Tomato Sauce
Mashed Potatoes Whole Wheat
Bread Butter Prune Pudding
Milk for Children

Supper
Apple and Cabbage Salad
Peanut Butter Sandwiches
Cocoa for All

For the 2 or 3-year-old child the tender leaves of cabbage may be chopped and put in a sandwich.

Hot Stuffed Eggs: Five eggs, hard cooked; 1-2 teaspoon minced onion, 1 teaspoon vinegar or tomato juice, 1-4 teaspoon salt, pinch of pepper.

Cut the eggs in half lengthwise, removing the yolks. Mash the yolks thoroughly, mix with ingredients. Stuff the egg whites. Put in a dish, cover with tomato sauce, reheat in a slow oven and serve. A white sauce may be used instead of tomato sauce.

Tomato Sauce: One cup tomatoes, 1-4 cup water, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 tablespoon fat, 2 tablespoons flour, 1-4 small onion, chopped fine, 1-2 teaspoon salt. Cook tomatoes, onion, sugar, water and salt together for five minutes. Rub through a coarse sieve. Melt fat, and flour and blend thoroughly. Add tomato mixture slowly, stirring constantly. Cook until it thickens.

Note: For a white sauce mix milk instead of the tomato mixture.

Prune Pudding: One-quarter pound prunes, 1-2 cups cold water, 1-2 cup sugar, 2 cups prune water, 1 inch stick cinnamon or 1-4 teaspoon powdered cinnamon, 4 tablespoons cold water.

Soak the prunes overnight in the 1-2 cups cold water. Cook in the same water until they are tender. Drain, but save the liquid. Remove the seeds and cut prunes into bits.

Add sugar, cinnamon and hot prune juice. If juice does not measure 2 cups add enough water to make up the measure. Bring to the boiling point and simmer for 10 minutes. To the flour add 4 tablespoons cold water and mix to a smooth paste. Add this slowly to the prune mixture, stirring carefully, and cook for 10 minutes over a slow fire or over boiling water. Remove stick cinnamon (if used) and pour into bowl or a mold. Serve cold.

Cocoa: Two or 3 tablespoons cocoa, 2 cups water, cold; few grains salt, 3 cups fresh or diluted evaporated milk, 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, few drops vanilla, if desired.

Combine cocoa, sugar, salt. Mix well and add cold water. Boil 5 or 10 minutes. Add the scalded milk and heat. Beat a few seconds with an egg beater or a spoon. Add vanilla if desired and serve. For the 2 to 3-year-old child add 2 tablespoons of the cocoa prepared for the rest of the family to his cup of warm milk.

Tomorrow: Wednesday's Menu.
(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution by Anna Eleanor Roosevelt from her book, "It's Up to the Women.")

fully were expressions of his affection. She will realize that the insurance policy with its perennial premium told an eloquent story of his devotion to her. She will comprehend the fact that the light love of his early youth and romance "suffered sea-change into something rich and strange." But when she is young she yearns to be flattered and petted and treated like a sweetheart.

Marriage may have weighed the young husband down with responsibilities that sobered him from lover to provider and protector, but his wife remains as she was: a romantic, sentimental woman wishing always to be wooed and made love to. If he can only get her viewpoint and humor she will not only be happy herself but she will repay him a hundred fold.

Making a wife happy is not a full-time job but it is a painstaking one. Nobody should understand this like the businessman who discovers early in his career that assiduous attention to the details of his enterprise is as important to success as attention to the larger aspects. When he begins to neglect these details it is only a matter of time until the profits fall off.

A few years ago a woman passed a bank in which she had a sizeable deposit. Being observant, she noticed that the windows were dirty and dirty, that the brass was tarnished. That night she said to her husband, "I'm going to move my account to another bank. There is something wrong with the management of an institution that puts up a dirty front to the public." Her husband was amused at her perspicacity and agreed with her that such carelessness augured ill for the conduct of the business. Sure enough she withdrew her money just a few months before the bank blew up.

The wife is more sensitive to neglect than is the business. She responds more quickly to painstaking care than do the profits. A man can employ an expert to come in and discover why his business is not prospering, he can employ an accountant to balance his books. But only he can balance the books at home and he cannot keep them in balance unless he has discovered what it takes to make his wife happy and provides it.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Four name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Some wag has said that the easiest job in the world is to make a woman happy, but that the man who undertakes it may make up his mind to do nothing else, since it is a full-time job. The gentleman who made that statement is not without humor, but he is without wit, because every woman knows that the only thing necessary to make a wife happy is to be assured that her happiness is her husband's chief concern. She will forgive him everything but infidelity if only she can rest secure in that knowledge.

There is a catch here, however. The simple statement issuing from his mouth that her happiness is his chief concern is not enough to convince a woman of his sincerity. He can swear until he is black in the face that he loves her and yet from her viewpoint give the lie to his lips by forgetting one marriage anniversary or by failing to give her the Christmas gift for which she has been hinting full 12 months.

This is not as silly as it sounds, either. She has seen the pains he takes with his business, his assiduous care in discovering just what his customers want and the endless trouble he takes to supply them with it; she has observed how anxious he is to please his employer or to merit the approval of partners and associates. She has observed the enthusiasm with which he applies himself to his hobby, be it golf or money making. All these things have registered with her and she knows good and well that if he places the same sort of premium on her happiness that he places on these other things, if her happiness is his chief concern, he will exercise the same sort of care in preserving it.

When she is older, less sentimental and more reasonable, she will know how to put the proper value on his hard work that made it possible for him to provide liberally for her and the children. She will then understand that the bills from the doctor, the dentist, the dance teacher and the music teacher which were paid cheerfully were expressions of his affection. She will realize that the insurance policy with its perennial premium told an eloquent story of his devotion to her. She will comprehend the fact that the light love of his early youth and romance "suffered sea-change into something rich and strange." But when she is young she yearns to be flattered and petted and treated like a sweetheart.

Marriage may have weighed the young husband down with responsibilities that sobered him from lover to provider and protector, but his wife remains as she was: a romantic, sentimental woman wishing always to be wooed and made love to. If he can only get her viewpoint and humor she will not only be happy herself but she will repay him a hundred fold.

Making a wife happy is not a full-time job but it is a painstaking one. Nobody should understand this like the businessman who discovers early in his career that assiduous attention to the details of his enterprise is as important to success as attention to the larger aspects. When he begins to neglect these details it is only a matter of time until the profits fall off.

A few years ago a woman passed a bank in which she had a sizeable deposit. Being observant, she noticed that the windows were dirty and dirty, that the brass was tarnished. That night she said to her husband, "I'm going to move my account to another bank. There is something wrong with the management of an institution that puts up a dirty front to the public." Her husband was amused at her perspicacity and agreed with her that such carelessness augured ill for the conduct of the business. Sure enough she withdrew her money just a few months before the bank blew up.

The wife is more sensitive to neglect than is the business. She responds more quickly to painstaking care than do the profits. A man can employ an expert to come in and discover why his business is not prospering, he can employ an accountant to balance his books. But only he can balance the books at home and he cannot keep them in balance unless he has discovered what it takes to make his wife happy and provides it.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

fully were expressions of his affection. She will realize that the insurance policy with its perennial premium told an eloquent story of his devotion to her. She will comprehend the fact that the light love of his early youth and romance "suffered sea-change into something rich and strange." But when she is young she yearns to be flattered and petted and treated like a sweetheart.

Marriage may have weighed the young husband down with responsibilities that sobered him from lover to provider and protector, but his wife remains as she was: a romantic, sentimental woman wishing always to be wooed and made love to. If he can only get her viewpoint and humor she will not only be happy herself but she will repay him a hundred fold.

Making a wife happy is not a full-time job but it is a painstaking one. Nobody should understand this like the businessman who discovers early in his career that assiduous attention to the details of his enterprise is as important to success as attention to the larger aspects. When he begins to neglect these details it is only a matter of time until the profits fall off.

A few years ago a woman passed a bank in which she had a sizeable deposit. Being observant, she noticed that the windows were dirty and dirty, that the brass was tarnished. That night she said to her husband, "I'm going to move my account to another bank. There is something wrong with the management of an institution that puts up a dirty front to the public." Her husband was amused at her perspicacity and agreed with her that such carelessness augured ill for the conduct of the business. Sure enough she withdrew her money just a few months before the bank blew up.

The wife is more sensitive to neglect than is the business. She responds more quickly to painstaking care than do the profits. A man can employ an expert to come in and discover why his business is not prospering, he can employ an accountant to balance his books. But only he can balance the books at home and he cannot keep them in balance unless he has discovered what it takes to make his wife happy and provides it.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

fully were expressions of his affection. She will realize that the insurance policy with its perennial premium told an eloquent story of his devotion to her. She will comprehend the fact that the light love of his early youth and romance "suffered sea-change into something rich and strange." But when she is young she yearns to be flattered and petted and treated like a sweetheart.

Marriage may have weighed the young husband down with responsibilities that sobered him from lover to provider and protector, but his wife remains as she was: a romantic, sentimental woman wishing always to be wooed and made love to. If he can only get her viewpoint and humor she will not only be happy herself but she will repay him a hundred fold.

Making a wife happy is not a full-time job but it is a painstaking one. Nobody should understand this like the businessman who discovers early in his career that assiduous attention to the details of his enterprise is as important to success as attention to the larger aspects. When he begins to neglect these details it is only a matter of time until the profits fall off.

A few years ago a woman passed a bank in which she had a sizeable deposit. Being observant, she noticed that the windows were dirty and dirty, that the brass was tarnished. That night she said to her husband, "I'm going to move my account to another bank. There is something wrong with the management of an institution that puts up a dirty front to the public." Her husband was amused at her perspicacity and agreed with her that such carelessness augured ill for the conduct of the business. Sure enough she withdrew her money just a few months before the bank blew up.

The wife is more sensitive to neglect than is the business. She responds more quickly to painstaking care than do the profits. A man can employ an expert to come in and discover why his business is not prospering, he can employ an accountant to balance his books. But only he can balance the books at home and he cannot keep them in balance unless he has discovered what it takes to make his wife happy and provides it.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

fully were expressions of his affection. She will realize that the insurance policy with its perennial premium told an eloquent story of his devotion to her. She will comprehend the fact that the light love of his early youth and romance "suffered sea-change into something rich and strange." But when she is young she yearns to be flattered and petted and treated like a sweetheart.

Marriage may have weighed the young husband down with responsibilities that sobered him from lover to provider and protector, but his wife remains as she was: a romantic, sentimental woman wishing always to be wooed and made love to. If he can only get her viewpoint and humor she will not only be happy herself but she will repay him a hundred fold.

Making a wife happy is not a full-time job but it is a painstaking one. Nobody should understand this like the businessman who discovers early in his career that assiduous attention to the details of his enterprise is as important to success as attention to the larger aspects. When he begins to neglect these details it is only a matter of time until the profits fall off.

A few years ago a woman passed a bank in which she had a sizeable deposit. Being observant, she noticed that the windows were dirty and dirty, that the brass was tarnished. That night she said to her husband, "I'm going to move my account to another bank. There is something wrong with the management of an institution that puts up a dirty front to the public." Her husband was amused at her perspicacity and agreed with her that such carelessness augured ill for the conduct of the business. Sure enough she withdrew her money just a few months before the bank blew up.

The wife is more sensitive to neglect than is the business. She responds more quickly to painstaking care than do the profits. A man can employ an expert to come in and discover why his business is not prospering, he can employ an accountant to balance his books. But only he can balance the books at home and he cannot keep them in balance unless he has discovered what it takes to make his wife happy and provides it.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

fully were expressions of his affection. She will realize that the insurance policy with its perennial premium told an eloquent story of his devotion to her. She will comprehend the fact that the light love of his early youth and romance "suffered sea-change into something rich and strange." But when she is young she yearns to be flattered and petted and treated like a sweetheart.

Marriage may have weighed the young husband down with responsibilities that sobered him from lover to provider and protector, but his wife remains as she was: a romantic, sentimental woman wishing always to be wooed and made love to. If he can only get her viewpoint and humor she will not only be happy herself but she will repay him a hundred fold.

Making a wife happy is not a full-time job but it is a painstaking one. Nobody should understand this like the businessman who discovers early in his career that assiduous attention to the details of his enterprise is as important to success as attention to the larger aspects. When he begins to neglect these details it is only a matter of time until the profits fall off.

A few years ago a woman passed a bank in which she had a sizeable deposit. Being observant, she noticed that the windows were dirty and dirty, that the brass was tarnished. That night she said to her husband, "I'm going to move my account to another bank. There is something wrong with the management of an institution that puts up a dirty front to the public." Her husband was amused at her perspicacity and agreed with her that such carelessness augured ill for the conduct of the business. Sure enough she withdrew her money just a few months before the bank blew up.

The wife is more sensitive to neglect than is the business. She responds more quickly to painstaking care than do the profits. A man can employ an expert to come in and discover why his business is not prospering, he can employ an accountant to balance his books. But only he can balance the books at home and he cannot keep them in balance unless he has discovered what it takes to make his wife happy and provides it.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

fully were expressions of his affection. She will realize that the insurance policy with its perennial premium told an eloquent story of his devotion to her. She will comprehend the fact that the light love of his early youth and romance "suffered sea-change into something rich and strange." But when she is young she yearns to be flattered and petted and treated like a sweetheart.

Marriage may have weighed the young husband down with responsibilities that sobered him from lover to provider and protector, but his wife remains as she was: a romantic, sentimental woman wishing always to be wooed and made love to. If he can only get her viewpoint and humor she will not only be happy herself but she will repay him a hundred fold.

Making a wife happy is not a full-time job but it is a painstaking one. Nobody should understand this like the businessman who discovers early in his career that assiduous attention to the details of his enterprise is as important to success as attention to the larger aspects. When he begins to neglect these details it is only a matter of time until the profits fall off.

A few years ago a woman passed a bank in which she had a sizeable deposit. Being observant, she noticed that the windows were dirty and dirty, that the brass was tarnished. That night she said to her husband, "I'm going to move my account to another bank. There is something wrong with the management of an institution that puts up a dirty front to the public." Her husband was amused at her perspicacity and agreed with her that such carelessness augured ill for the conduct of the business. Sure enough she withdrew her money just a few months before the bank blew up.

Styles by Annette

397

Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

A Strength-Showing Bid.

"But I had passed three honors and I had to show you the strength of my hand," was the remark of a rather inexperienced player to her partner after playing the hand below in the absurd contract of four notrump. She thought she was using the four-notrump bid in its conventional meaning of showing two aces and the king of a bid suit, but her partner construed it as simply making a possible game practically impossible.

In further extension of her unusual bid, the lady continued: "I had support for both your suits and I never thought you would drop me."

Perhaps South, her partner on this unfortunate occasion, should have bid five clubs, which could have been made but to him it was amazing that North could have passed the opening bid and then, without either supporting a suit or showing one of her own, jump to four notrump. Slightly afraid of such unusual things, he decided to pass.

The hand was:
North, dealer.
East and West vulnerable.

♠ K 9 8 7
♥ A 10 6
♦ Q J 9 7 4
♣ A 10 5 4

♠ N 6 4 3 2
♥ W 5
♦ E 9 5 4 3
♣ S

♠ Q J 10 5
♥ K
♦ Q 8 2
♣ A K 8 3 2

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

North East South West
Pass (1) Pass 1♠ (2) Pass
2NT (3) Pass 3♠ (4) Pass
4NT (5) Pass Pass (6) Pass

1—North should not have passed this hand. The correct opening bid is one club.

2—South's hand is barely more than a minimum but fully comes up to the requirements for an opening bid.

3—North, having passed an opening bid, is in some difficulty in finding a good call at this point. She chooses the fairly strong bid of two notrump rather than showing immediate support for the clubs.

4—Of course, South is not interested in notrump with his distribution, and now bids the shaded spade suit, hoping to find an advantageous spot to play.

5—Having support for both suits bid by her partner, North now makes another strong, but very bad, bid.

6—Completely at sea as to exactly what is happening, South decides to pass.

The result, when the battle was over was that North and South had taken seven tricks and East and West six. In other words, the four-notrump contract was defeated three tricks.

The hand plays best at five clubs, which cannot be defeated. A four-spade contract would be set if a club were opened by West, allowing East to trump it; but even a four-spade contract, though unsuccessful, could not be criticized. But a no-trump contract had no chance to succeed.

Had North's subsequent bidding been correct, she would not have suffered at all from her unusual original pass of a strong hand. She was fortunate in that her partner opened the bidding and gave her a chance to show her real status; but she should not have attempted to correct her error by such a contradictory bid as four notrump.

The best bids by all concerned would have been: (Figure after bid refers to numbered explanatory paragraph.)

North East South West
1♣ Pass 1♠ (1) Pass
2♣ Pass 4♠ Pass
5♣ Pass Pass Pass

1—South does not wish to give the full number of raises in clubs, because a three-notrump contract may seem desirable; so he makes a one-over-one response on the shaded suit. This response is practically forcing, and thus there is hardly any danger of failing to bid game.

2—Tomorrow's Hand.
South, dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

♠ 10 7
♥ A Q 10 6 5
♦ A J 9 8
♣ Q

♠ J 9 6 5 2
♥ J 7
♦ 6 8 2
♣ 9 7 8

♠ A Q
♥ K 9 3 2
♦ K Q 10
♣ A K 8 2

The hand will be discussed in tomorrow's article.
(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Mr. Culbertson will be very glad to answer questions on bridge. Please inclose a stamped (3-cent), self-addressed envelope and address your question to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Lillian Mae Patterns

Mail orders to Annette Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Georgia.

ALMAND TO LEAD FIGHT FOR PAY HIKE MEASURE

Councilman Ed Almand, of the third ward, will lead the fight in city council today to reinstate the base pay of approximately 600 city employees at a cost of more than $20,000 from August 1 until January 1.

Heavy opposition to the measure is expected in view of Mayor James L. Keen's veto of the proposal, which necessitates that Councilman Almand and his supporters marshal two-thirds majority in council and on the aldermanic board.

The police committee will seek to have council put its stamp of approval on the proposal to allow 20 feet of yellow curbing in front of office building entrances and 15 feet in front of sidewalk elevators.

The resignation of Councilman J. Raymond Curtis, of the tenth ward, effective at the close of business July 16, will be presented.

The ordinance committee will file an adverse report on a proposal to abolish the taxicab ordinance.

Proposal to establish a clerk's post at Grady hospital to regulate certification of death and sick benefit certificates instead of allowing internes to sign them and collect fees will be considered. Under the proposed plan, fees still would be charged and proceeds in excess of the salary for the clerk diverted to interne activities at the hospital.

PATTERN 1922.

This is one of those tremendously chic two-piece frocks which do their stuff so quietly and subtly you have to stop and look carefully to find out where all that style really comes from. Front pleats that all turn in, are one of its clever little tricks, and pleated sleeves that grow into a devastatingly smart epaulet on the shoulders are another. The rest of it is mostly very good proportions and a demure and becoming little round collar. The original was made of red and white checked gingham and worn with navy blue accessories. It was stunning!

Pattern 1922 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40. Size 16 takes 5 yards 36-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send 15 cents for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

The smartest warm weather fashions, the newest fabrics, and the super mer season's outstanding accessories are illustrated and described in the new pattern book for summer. Order your copy of this helpful new summer book. Price of book 15 cents.

Address orders to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

By MIGNON.

With the world's fair and summer hikes in this present, great thanks will be given for help in soothing tired pedal extremities. No woman can look beautiful when she is tired to death of walking and climbing, and her shoes seem to have been made for feet two sizes smaller than hers.

There are manufacturers who have thought of this, with most satisfactory results. For instance—there is a cream, in a tube, and it is called an ice. That I suppose because the cream soothes, rests, heals and takes all the burn out, creating the impression of extreme coolness.

The most glowing report of this came from a woman who is constantly walking about on a concrete floor, demonstrating to thousands of women who are privileged to sit down, the arts of home cooking and problems in domestic science. She thinks the new ice in tubes is the best find of the season for her. It is not expensive, it is made by a very high-class manufacturer and if you apply it at night and then sleep the sleep of the just, all your troubles will vanish in the morning.

An Excellent Hand Cream.
2. I've become pretty well addicted would have been: (Figure after bid refers to numbered explanatory paragraph.)

North East South West
1♣ Pass 1♠ (1) Pass
2♣ Pass 4♠ Pass
5♣ Pass Pass Pass

1—South does not wish to give the full number of raises in clubs, because a three-notrump contract may seem desirable; so he makes a one-over-one response on the shaded suit. This response is practically forcing, and thus there is hardly any danger of failing to bid game.

2—Tomorrow's Hand.
South, dealer.
North and South vulnerable.

♠ 10 7
♥ A Q 10 6 5
♦ A J 9 8
♣ Q

♠ J 9 6 5 2
♥ J 7
♦ 6 8 2
♣ 9 7 8

♠ A Q
♥ K 9 3 2
♦ K Q 10
♣ A K 8 2

The hand will be discussed in tomorrow's article.
(Copyright, 1934, for The Constitution.)

Mr. Culbertson will be very glad to answer questions on bridge. Please inclose a stamped (3-cent), self-addressed envelope and address your question to Ely Culbertson, in care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Lillian Mae Patterns

Mail orders to Annette Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Georgia.

ALMAND TO LEAD FIGHT FOR PAY HIKE MEASURE

Councilman Ed Almand, of the third ward, will lead the fight in city council today to reinstate the base pay of approximately 600 city employees at a cost of more than $20,000 from August 1 until January 1.

Heavy opposition to the measure is expected in view of Mayor James L. Keen's veto of the proposal, which necessitates that Councilman Almand and his supporters marshal two-thirds majority in council and on the aldermanic board.

The police committee will seek to have council put its stamp of approval on the proposal to allow 20 feet of yellow curbing in front of office building entrances and 15 feet in front of sidewalk elevators.

The resignation of Councilman J. Raymond Curtis, of the tenth ward, effective at the close of business July 16, will be presented.

The ordinance committee will file an adverse report on a proposal to abolish the taxicab ordinance.

Proposal to establish a clerk's post at Grady hospital to regulate certification of death and sick benefit certificates instead of allowing internes to sign them and collect fees will be considered. Under the proposed plan, fees still would be charged and proceeds in excess of the salary for the clerk diverted to interne activities at the hospital.

PATTERN 1922.

This is one of those tremendously chic two-piece frocks which do their stuff so quietly and subtly you have to stop and look carefully to find out where all that style really comes from. Front pleats that all turn in, are one of its clever little tricks, and pleated sleeves that grow into a devastatingly smart epaulet on the shoulders are another. The rest of it is mostly very good proportions and a demure and becoming little round collar. The original was made of red and white checked gingham and worn with navy blue accessories. It was stunning!

Pattern 1922 is available in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40. Size 16 takes 5 yards 36-inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

Send 15 cents for this pattern. Write plainly name, address and style number. Be sure to state size.

The smartest warm weather fashions, the newest fabrics, and the super mer season's outstanding accessories are illustrated and described in the new pattern book for summer. Order your copy of this helpful new summer book. Price of book 15 cents.

Address orders to Lillian Mae Pattern Department, The Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

Things That Make Women More Beautiful

By MIGNON.

With the world's fair and summer hikes in this present, great thanks will be given for help in soothing tired pedal extremities. No woman can look beautiful when she is tired to death of walking and climbing, and her shoes seem to have been

Campers at Highland Plan Week Of Interesting Patriotic Events

Holiday spirit will prevail at Camp Highland this week as campers are preparing to celebrate July 4 in the traditional manner by inviting the public to the barbecue, swimming meet, pageant and other camp festivities. A barbecue plate will be served in the dining room at 1:30 o'clock and reservations at 35 cents may be made by notifying the W. C. A. by Tuesday morning.

Dramatic classes, directed by Miss Nellie Willett, are practicing a patriotic play, depicting significant historical facts about the founding of the 13 colonies. Quakers, Puritans, famous characters, costume dancers will be portrayed by campers and will present a colorful spectacle. A water polo game at 12 o'clock will demonstrate the skill and ingenuity of the campers. The swimming meet will be held at the pool until lunch hour.

Miss Marion West, one of Highland's favorite pianists, will play for the dance to be given Saturday evening, July 7, with Miss Jacqueline Moore, Miss Ann Johnson and Miss Mary Caldwell arranging specialty numbers.

The Highland calendar for the coming weeks contains interesting high-lights and red-letter days. July 13 will be known as Health Day; Highland Day will be July 21 and July 25 will mark the closing of the adolescent camp. Adult camp opens July 28, with interesting features planned for business and industrial girls and women.

Mrs. Mary Kate Dusk, of Y. W. C. A. religious education committee, announces the following speakers for July and invites Atlantans to drive out to Highland on these occasions: July 8, Dr. Wade Boggs, Druid Hills Presbyterian church; July 15, Dr. Lavens Thomas, Emory University; July 22, Jere Wells, Fulton county board of education. On July 1 at 7 o'clock, Mrs. Ernest Bell spoke, choosing as her topic, "Southern Songs and Stories." July 8, Miss Rhoda Kaufman, of Family Welfare Society; July 15, Mrs. Alonso Richardson, "Glimpses of Religions in Europe." July 22, Mrs. Charles Parmelee, subject to be announced later.

Members of the Business Girls League and their friends are invited to a barbecue July 4 at Glenwood Springs, where swimming and games will be enjoyed. Miss Katherine Milne, chairman, requests that girls meet at the picnic grounds at 10:30 o'clock.

West End Woman's Club Officers Plan Open House for July 2

Officers of the West End Woman's Club will entertain at an open house on Monday evening, July 2, at 8 o'clock, honoring club members and their husbands and friends. Officers of the club are Mrs. Charles B. Fife, president; Mrs. J. W. Simmons, vice president; Mrs. Ren F. Starr, secretary; Mrs. Burton Bankston, recording secretary; Mrs. L. L. Grant Jr., assistant recording secretary; Mrs. E. V. Clarke, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. McGee, treasurer; Mrs. J. W. Woolley, assistant treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Phagan, press chairman; Mrs. Mabel McNeil, auditor; Mrs. T. E. Roberts, parliamentarian. Mrs. Fife has appointed the following committees: Entertainment, Mesdames E. L. McGee, Burton Bankston, J. H. Phagan, Julia Turner; refreshments, Mesdames B. F. Starr, J. W. Simmons, J. W. Woolley and Mabel McNeil; decorations, Mesdames R. L. Grant Jr., T. E. Roberts, and E. V. Clarke. An attractive program has been arranged and an invitation is extended to club members and their friends.

Miss Partridge Weds Herschel J. Daniel

HOGANSVILLE, Ga., July 1.—The marriage of Herschel J. Daniel, of Hogansville, and Miss Era Partridge, of Mountville, took place at the pastorage of the First Methodist church in Newnan Tuesday. Dr. A. M. Pierre, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

Mr. Daniel is the only child of D. J. Daniel and the late Mrs. Kate Hightower Daniel, of Hogansville. He holds a responsible position with the Callaway Mills in Hogansville. He is a graduate of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Ala.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Partridge, of Mountville. She graduated from G. S. C. W. at Milledgeville. For the past two years she has been connected with the school system of Columbus. Her sisters are Mrs. J. N. Darden, of Hogansville; Misses Sara and Mary Partridge, of Mountville, and her brothers are James B. Partridge, of Atlanta; W. L. J. E. G. P. and A. C. Partridge, of Mountville, and R. P. Partridge, of Lafayette, Alabama.

Colonial Bridge Club.

The Colonial Bridge Club was entertained at a party Wednesday at the home of Mrs. George C. Beacham on Moreland avenue. Those present were Mesdames Joe J. Sutherland, Sam H. Harbin, P. E. Goodrich, W. T. Connell, W. V. Smith, L. R. Payne, Tom Hawkins, R. H. Mobley and George C. Beacham. Mrs. F. E. Goodrich won top score prize and Mrs. Tom Hawkins drew consolation.

Miss O'Connor Weds Clarence C. English At Baptist Tabernacle

Miss Emma Mae O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. O'Connor and Clarence Charles English were married at an impressive ceremony solemnized on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Baptist tabernacle. The Rev. Dr. W. H. Knight, pastor, performed the marriage service in the presence of a number of relatives and friends.

Palms and ferns were banked on the altar forming a rich background for white lilies arranged in a tall vase. Preceding the ceremony a program of music was rendered by Mrs. Jerome Smith, soloist, and Miss Noble Bell, organist. Mrs. Smith sang "Oh, Promising Me" and Mrs. Bell's program included the "Wedding March" and the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin."

Miss Lillian O'Connor, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and wore a powder blue crepe gown, and carried a muf of a matching material ornamented with a cluster of pink rose buds and baby's breath. The bridesmaids included Misses Elsie Davis, Ruth Allen and Ruth Herring. They were gowned in crepe gowns and carried muffs studded with roses. Miss Davis wore orchid crepe, Miss Allen, pink, and Miss Herring, spray green crepe.

Little Elizabeth Thompson and Vivian Lewis were the flower girls. They wore organdy frocks and carried white wicker baskets filled with rose petals. Henley Wilbur was the best man and the groomsmen included Paul Garey, Paul Barton and Mac Johnson.

Wearing ivory satin, the bride entered with her father, R. L. O'Connor, by whom she was given in marriage. Featuring a fitted bodice fashioned with long tight sleeves and a graceful skirt which touched the floor, she wore a slight train. Her tulle veil was caught to her hair with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of valley lilies centered with a single white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Connor entertained at an informal reception at their home on La France street honoring the bride and bridegroom and the members of their wedding party. Mr. English and his bride left for a wedding trip by motor and upon their return they will take possession of their apartment on West Peachtree street.

Beautiful Bride of Season

Mrs. Shelley Davis, whose marriage, taking place at the Druid Hills Baptist church recently, was among the brilliant nuptial events of the spring season. Mrs. Davis is the former Miss Ethel Voss, lovely young daughter of Mrs. Ethel Hardman York. Photo by Elliott's Peachtree studio.

Personals

Miss Josephine Bigler is in Columbia, S. C., where she is visiting her aunt, Mrs. A. McD. Laird. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bigler will join Miss Bigler in Columbia and the trio will spend several days at Myrtle Beach, S. C.

Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson leaves this week for the mountains of north Georgia, where she will spend the summer.

Among the guests at the Biltmore are P. B. Buntin, of Washington, D. C.; M. L. Ehrenberg, of Chicago, Ill.; Miss J. A. Platt, of Washington, D. C.; R. A. Sellers, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kline, of Savannah, Ga.; Percy S. Straus Jr., of New York city; M. Blye, of Cleveland, Ohio; Guy D. Nourse, of Fort Belvoir, Fla.; A. Straus Jr., of Columbus, Ga.; L. M. Taylor, of Macon, Ga.; R. E. Price, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio; Mrs. Cal Clarke, of Shreveport, La.; W. N. Thomas, of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Miss Elizabeth Woolford, Miss Martha Carmichael and Miss Elizabeth Camp are at the Panhellenic hotel in New York, having arrived from Buck Hill Falls, where they attended the Chi Omega convention. They are attending the Panhellenic house party.

Miss Harriet Grant leaves on Wednesday for Columbus to attend the marriage of Miss Florence Garrard and Lieutenant Eugene Brown, which will be a brilliant social event of Thursday, July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crumley leave on Monday for Lakewood, where they will spend two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Boykin at their cottage.

Misses Lois Bridges and Dorothy Donier are vacationing at Jackson, N. C., and will return after July 4.

Miss Joan Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Wolfe, has been visiting friends in Philadelphia, prior to her departure to Tripp Lake camp at Poland, Maine, where she will spend the summer. This is Miss Wolfe's fifth summer at Tripp Lake camp. Last summer she won the "swim-for-form" cup over 150 contestants, as well as the "archery" cup.

Mrs. H. G. Randall, Mrs. Luther Randall and her children, Helen and Luther Randall Jr., are at Daytona Beach, Fla., for two weeks. Luther Randall will motor to Daytona Tuesday to join his family.

Miss Mary Sue Harper is visiting friends at Loganville this week.

Platt—Taylor. NEWNAN, Ga., July 1.—The marriage of Miss Lucile Platt and Harry Taylor was solemnized on Thursday, June 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor, parents of the bridegroom. Rev. J. E. Hannah, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

The bride wore a model of navy chiffon with a swag coat. Complementing the costume was a close-fitting hat of navy blue and accessories of a matching shade. She wore a shoulder corsage of sweetheart roses and valley lilies. The young couple left for a motor trip through the mountains of North Carolina. Upon their return from their wedding trip they will be at home with the bride's parents in a temporary apartment.

Mrs. Taylor is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Platt and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. Keith. She attended the Woman's College in Montgomery, Ala., and for the past two years has taught kindergarten in Newnan. Mr. Taylor is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor. He completed his education at Oglethorpe University and is connected with the Newnan Cotton Mills.

Mrs. Gary Honored. Mrs. Jack Gary and her daughter, Mrs. D. C. Vinson, were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower recently, honoring Mrs. Louis Gary, a recent bride. They were assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. T. Gary, Miss Annie Rie Gary presided at the punch bowl.

Contests were enjoyed and prizes were won by Miss Ruby Hudson and Mrs. Annie Maude Harkins. The bride was presented many beautiful gifts, among them being an old-fashioned hand-made rug, presented by the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Anna E. Barton.

Beautiful Women Love New Powder. Beautiful women, admired for youthful complexions, use MELLO-GLO, the new wonderful French process face powder. Purest and smoothest powder known. Stays on longer. No flaking or puffy look. No grime or grit. Prevents large pores and never smart or feels dry. Blends naturally with any complexion. D. E. M. and M. L. G. L. O. 50c and $1. (adv.)

Beautiful Women Love New Powder. Beautiful women, admired for youthful complexions, use MELLO-GLO, the new wonderful French process face powder. Purest and smoothest powder known. Stays on longer. No flaking or puffy look. No grime or grit. Prevents large pores and never smart or feels dry. Blends naturally with any complexion. D. E. M. and M. L. G. L. O. 50c and $1. (adv.)

Beautiful Women Love New Powder. Beautiful women, admired for youthful complexions, use MELLO-GLO, the new wonderful French process face powder. Purest and smoothest powder known. Stays on longer. No flaking or puffy look. No grime or grit. Prevents large pores and never smart or feels dry. Blends naturally with any complexion. D. E. M. and M. L. G. L. O. 50c and $1. (adv.)

Beautiful Women Love New Powder. Beautiful women, admired for youthful complexions, use MELLO-GLO, the new wonderful French process face powder. Purest and smoothest powder known. Stays on longer. No flaking or puffy look. No grime or grit. Prevents large pores and never smart or feels dry. Blends naturally with any complexion. D. E. M. and M. L. G. L. O. 50c and $1. (adv.)

Beautiful Women Love New Powder. Beautiful women, admired for youthful complexions, use MELLO-GLO, the new wonderful French process face powder. Purest and smoothest powder known. Stays on longer. No flaking or puffy look. No grime or grit. Prevents large pores and never smart or feels dry. Blends naturally with any complexion. D. E. M. and M. L. G. L. O. 50c and $1. (adv.)

Miss Mary Ann Cobb Weds Mr. Buhrman In Cedartown, Ga.

CEDARTOWN, Ga., July 1.—The wedding of Miss Mary Ann Cobb to William Edward Buhrman, of West Palm Beach, Fla., was solemnized at the country home of the bride's parents here Friday evening. Rev. W. B. Buhrman, the father of the bridegroom, performed the service. There were no attendants.

The lovely bride, a petite blonde, was married in her traveling suit of blue and white ensemble with blue and white accessories. She wore a shoulder bouquet of lilies of the valley.

A reception was held following the ceremony, which was attended by a number of relatives and friends of the couple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus C. Cobb. Her mother before her marriage was Miss Lena McEachern, of Atlanta. Her maternal grandparents were the late Dave L. McEachern and Mary Ann Baggett McEachern, of Powder Springs, while her paternal grandparents were the late Floyd Nathaniel Cobb and Mary Ann Young Cobb, of Cedartown. The bride has two brothers, A. C. Cobb Jr. and Julius Cobb, and one sister, Mrs. A. B. Matthews, all of Cedartown.

The bridegroom is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Buhrman, of Starkville, Miss. His maternal grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Rank, of Montgomery county, Indiana, while his paternal grandparents were the late Rev. and Mrs. Francis Asbury Buhrman, of Washington county, Virginia. The bridegroom has two brothers, A. B. Buhrman, of Atlanta, and Billy Buhrman, of Starkville, Miss., and one sister, Miss Betty Buhrman, of Starkville, Miss.

The couple left on a short trip before going to their home in Florida.

Miss Barber Weds H. Orville Wheeler

Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Stanford announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Mary Elizabeth Barber, of Atlanta, to H. Orville Wheeler, of Macon. The marriage took place at the home of Dr. Stanford Sunday with Judge John D. Humphries performing the ceremony in the presence of a few close friends of the couple. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler left for Macon where they will be at home at the Navaro apartments.

Mrs. Wheeler is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Stanford Barker, of Macon, but has resided in Atlanta with her uncle for the past three years. She is a graduate of G. V. T. S., Walker Park, Ga., and while a student there she won signal honors in her school duties and as editor of the school magazine.

Mr. Wheeler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wheeler, of Atlanta, but has been a resident of Macon for several years where he is connected with the American Telephone Company in its engineering department. Mr. Wheeler took his engineering training at Georgia Tech and is now University. He will continue with the majoring in journalism at Mercer American Telephone Company.

Blackwell—Brown.

ROYSTON, Ga., July 1.—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Blackwell announce the marriage of their daughter, Gwendolyn, to W. W. Brown, of Bowman, on Sunday, June 24, at the home of the bride. Only relatives and a few close friends were invited.

Fulton Rebekah Lodge Holds Instalation of Officers on July 3

On Tuesday evening, July 3, under the direction of Mrs. Rosa Bell, the deputy president of Fulton Rebekah Lodge, No. 14, I. O. O. F., Miss Bessie Burnett, noble grand-elect; Mrs. Bessie New, vice grand-elect; Mrs. Joanna Skipper, warden; Miss Edna Thompson, conductor; Mrs. Gussie Tripp, musician; Mrs. Rosa Bell, chaplain; Mrs. Lucile New, inside guardian; Miss Ida New, outside guardian; Miss Mae Garner, right supporter to noble grand; Mrs. Grace McGee, left supporter to noble grand; Mrs. Nell Baker, right supporter to vice grand; Mrs. Annie Padgett, left supporter to vice grand; Mrs. Winton, Rebekah, and Mrs. Charles Callaway, Naomi, will be installed into office by members of Fulton Rebekah Lodge.

For Miss McElheney.

Miss Virginia Burdette gave a prom party recently honoring her visitor, Miss Hazel McElheney, of Monticello. Misses Doris and Evelyn Burdette assisted in entertaining. Those present were Misses Bettie Read, Katherine Moore, Betty Holcomb, Carolyn Collinsworth, Peazy Body, Wilene Dean, Doris Burdette, Hazel McElheney, Virginia Burdette and Fred Parker. Bill Echols, James Brown, Robert Newell, John Seydel, Charlie Barker, Rudy Coan, Bob Miller, Ramsy Lambert and Charlie Girtman.

Owen—Smith.

Of interest to their friends is the announcement of the recent marriage of Miss Sara Elizabeth Owen, daughter of Mrs. Dina Owen, formerly of Tooele, to Wilmer Orme Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Smith, of this city.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. Wilbur S. Smith, June 9, at his home on 844 Cumberland circle. The young couple will be at home at 502 Dayton place.

Lewis—Crouch.

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn., July 1. Sidney L. Crouch and Miss Hildred Marie Lewis, both of this city, were married here this morning at the home of the Rev. W. S. Hendricks. Mr. Crouch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Crouch, who live near Atlanta, Ga. He is in the drug business here. A week's honeymoon will be spent in and near Atlanta.

July 4th Special!

WHITE SPORT HATS

Felts
Linens
Piques

Crepes and Panamas

Third Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

The Store All Women Know

Another Shipment Has Just Arrived!

of those COOL, comfortable, WASHABLE SILKS AND SILK SEERSUCKERS

$5.95 AND $8.95

Dresses In the $5.95 Group Were Priced Earlier In the Season for $8.95 and $10.75

Dresses In the $8.95 Group Were Priced Earlier In the Season for $12.95 and $16.75

They went out of here like ice cold lemonades on a hot summer day . . . We had 300 cool, washable silks and they seemed to fly out. Now we have another shipment of these delightful "hot weather" dresses—we got them at a price concession, and so do you! All whites and refreshing pastel colors in a generous assortment of sizes up to 44.

Second Floor

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

The Store All Women Know

RUGS

Cleaned and Repaired by

SHARIAN

- LOOK BETTER
- LAST LONGER

DE. 5190

If You Want A Real Insect Destroyer. A Quick, Sure Killer WITH EXTRA-STRONG KILLING POWER

Then Ask For and Get

The One Great Insecticide

Rid your House of Flies, Mosquitoes, Ants, Roaches, and all other insect pests.

A leading seller for over fifteen years. Because its Quality is never lowered. More Powerful than ever this year—yet harmless to humans.

35c

RIGO MANUFACTURING CO. NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE

ROUND TABLE OF BUSINESS

A General Weekly Review of Commerce and Industry Affecting the Greater Atlanta Trade Territory

Edited By JACK TUBBS

New York Stock House Announces Expansion; Will Occupy Larger Quarters

KISER BUILDING TO BE OCCUPIED BY POPULAR FIRM

Increased Facilities To Permit More Varied Stock and Insure Prompt Delivery.

Pursuing its established policy of providing the best, not only in quality but in service, to its customers, the New York Stock House, in mid-July, will move from its present location at 176 Pryor street, S. W., to the commodious M. C. Kiser building at 206-08 Pryor street, S. W., according to J. D. Weitz, its executive head.

The Kiser building, occupying the southeast corner of the Pryor and Trinity avenue intersection, offers easy accessibility to customers of the New York Stock House, and insures greater facility in customer contacts and the speedy handling of orders.

Of special note are the lighting effects provided in the completely renovated Kiser building, which will make possible a display of the New York Stock House's complete stock of ladies' coats, suits and dresses to greater advantage than ever before.

In line with the New York Stock

Steady Gain in Fisk Usage Reported by Mulkey Tire Co.

Here is shown the new home of the Mulkey Tire Company, at the junction of Whitehall, Forsyth and Spring streets, formerly occupied by the branch store of Sears, Roebuck & Company. William S. Strouss (left) and William M. Mulkey (right) are shown in the insets.

Steadily increasing popularity of Fisk tires, made by the improved all-cord process, is reported by the Mulkey Tire Company, local dealers, now situated at the junction of Whitehall, Forsyth and Spring streets, in the House's policy of the best service available for its customers, Mr. Weitz announces the forthcoming expansion will enable a much larger showing of up-to-the-minute New York styles and the carrying of a considerably increased stock, which will insure prompt deliveries to the trade.

Since the New York Stock House does not carry knit dresses and knit sports wear in its own stocks, arrangements have been made by Mr. Weitz with Frank C. Lloyd, representing Marinette Knitting Mills, Cartwright Gowns, Inc., and the B. H. Simon Company, who will occupy a part of the Kiser building and carry a full line of knit wear.

Good Food enjoy it every day
The HARVEY way
AIR CONDITIONED
BUDGET WITH US
Special!
Assorted cold cuts, or fresh vegetable plate, iced tea or beer 25c
HARVEY'S RESTAURANT
OPEN ALL NIGHT
133 LUCKIE ST. N. W. WA. 7158

A. M. CHANDLER, Inc.
AUTHORIZED SALES SERVICE
Cars - Trucks
134-138 E. Ponce de Leon Avenue, Decatur DE. 2771

Ask about our Red Writing Hood Carbon Paper and the unexcelled line of AULT & WIBORG'S CARBON PAPER AND RIBBONS
Exclusive Georgia Distributors
Atlanta Ribbon & Carbon Co.
"ASK ANY GOOD STENOGRAPHER"
225 10 Forsyth St., Bldg. MA. 2810

WHITEHALL CHEVROLET COMPANY
A Good Product A Friendly Service
329 Whitehall St. WA. 1412

Washington Seminary
Peachtree Road, Atlanta, Georgia
Some features that commend the school to parents seeking the best in the education of their daughters:
1. Unusually beautiful grounds, buildings, furnishings like those of an elegant private home.
2. Boarding department limited to thirty students; home influences and care.
3. Classes divided into small sections; personal attention to each pupil; supervised study.
4. Healthful, mild winter climate, 1100 ft. above sea-level.
5. OPEN-AIR CLASS ROOMS for use in seasonable weather.
6. Four literary courses leading to graduation; Music, Art, Expression, Domestic Science, Physical Training.
6. Fully accredited.
57th year begins Sept. 13, 1934.
Llewellyn D. Scott Principals Miss Emma B. Scott

MCCORMICK-DEERING FARMALLS
Will Do a Better Job
INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER COMPANY OF AMERICA

MARKED INCREASE IN VOLUME SHOWN BY DUNLAP & CO.

Gains Attributed to Rising Property Values, Larger Inventories and New Business Openings.

The rising value of both business and residential property, enlarged inventories, and the establishment of an increasing number of new business concerns in Atlanta, together with the growing appreciation of the service element in insurance, were pointed out Saturday by Dunlap & Company, insurance agents with offices in the Candler building, as contributing factors in the decided increase in the volume of business done by their company for the first six months of the current year over the same period last year.

"The recognition by businessmen of the need for professional service in the shaping and handling of general insurance programs is turning new clients to the established agencies qualified to render such service," Edgar Dunlap, president, stated. "The opportunity for specialized service is of great value in handling many classes of insurance. Few people realize that two insurance policies covering the same risk and issued for the same amount may have a different value when written by different agents. Involved in the servicing of accounts is a study of the clients' particular problems and the determining of how protection may be secured at the lowest cost. This service may involve recommendation of certain improvements, removal of hazards, and other suggestions directly or indirectly bearing on the case, that will improve the risk and entitle the assured to a lower rate. It further requires the attention of a company with a large number of companies offering different types of service to provide the particular kind of insurance suited to the individual needs of the assured."

A staff trained in the analysis of insurance requirements enables Dunlap & Company to render such professional service. The further advantage of representing a large number of the strongest and soundest insurance companies in the country, the total assets of which total more than $250,000,000, provides the widest choice in the selection of companies offering service suited to the demands of various clients.

QUALITY
Our first consideration
Only thoroughly cleaned garments have the life and lustre of newness.
You will be pleased with our BEAUTIFUL
DRY CLEANING

EAST POINT
New Used
CHEVROLET
Parts Service COMPANY
CA. 2166

DODGE CARS—DODGE TRUCKS—PLYMOUTH CARS
SALES AND SERVICE USED CARS
J. M. HARRISON & CO.
North Ave. and West Peachtree HE. 9580

Superior JOB PRINTING
TELEPHONE Jackson 3317
Thos. F. Rybert
Printing Co.
311-313 Edgewood Ave. Atlanta, Ga.
PRINTING BINDING RULED FORMS Etc.
We Appreciate Your Order—Large or Small

SPECIALIZED SPRING SERVICE FRONT AXLE AND WHEEL ALIGNING DRENNON & ZAHN, Inc.
AUTOMOBILE SPECIALISTS
449 MARIETTA ST. JA. 4381-2
Fenders, Springs and Other Things

FISHING TACKLE
50% Discount
On special lot of wood minnows, steel and bamboo rods, flies and other equipment.

Walshour & Hood Co.
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL BICYCLES AND SPORTING GOODS
54 FORSYTH ST., S. W. NEXT TO RICH'S WALNUT 6694

Sharp-Boylston Co. Moves to New Quarters At 39-41 Forsyth Street, in Grant Building

Commodious, newly-remodeled quarters at 39-41 Forsyth street, in the ground floor of the Grant building, now are occupied by Sharp-Boylston Company, long-established realty concern. The inset at left is of G. M. Stout, president of Sharp-Boylston Company, and that at the right is of W. A. Sharp, secretary and treasurer of the company.

Sharp-Boylston Company has moved to new offices at 39-41 Forsyth street, N. W., in the ground floor of the Grant building, which has been entirely redecorated and remodeled to provide a more central location for the convenience of its clients.

In planning the new offices, every effort was used to make them complete in service, attractive, modern and convenient. The new location, with two entrances on Forsyth street and one in the Grant building lobby, is accessible from all directions.

Sharp-Boylston Company is one of the oldest realty firms in Atlanta, being the result of the consolidation in 1914 of the firm of Sharp & Boylston and John J. Woodside, established in 1881. In moving to the Grant building, the company returns to its original home, which was a little wooden building on the southwest corner of Broad and Walton streets, where the Grant building now stands.

Since it was organized in 1881, this firm has continued to grow and has a well-rounded organization of employees, some of whom have been with the company without interruption for more than 25 years.

The Sharp-Boylston Company conducts a general real estate business, including general rentals, sales, leases and insurance, and among its clients are property owners whose real estate the company has managed continuously for 40 years; also, clients

No Expense to You
To have our representative call and show you how our Awings add beauty, value and comfort to your property.
Call Calhoun 3101
Atlanta Tent & Awning Co.
The South's Largest Awning Builders
Factory and Office, East Point, Ga.

ELLIS
GENUINE
RU-BER-OLD ROOFS
RIGHT FOR OVER
40 YEARS
APPLIED BY
Ellis Roofing Company
686 Greenwood Ave., N. E.
HE. 1131

LOOK— This Specialized Service Over. Come Up and See Us Sometime—We Can Help You.
BRAKES CARBURETOR SPRINGS
WINDSHIELD WIPERS SERVICE WHEELS
Axle and Wheel Alignment
HARRIS RIM & WHEEL CO.
404-406 WEST PEACHTREE ST.

DUNLAP AND COMPANY INSURANCE
Since 1895
Candler Building WA. 3460-61

100,000 Sq. Feet MORE THAN TWO ACRES!
FLOOR SPACE
Greater Selection
STERCHI'S
Mr. Merchant
You can reach every home in Atlanta direct at small cost with CRUMBLEY delivered circulars.
Phone WA. 2480

Chrysler-Plymouth
Harry Sommers, Inc.
Distributors Since 1924

WILLIAMS PRINTING COMPANY
(Incorporated)
Booklets—Folders—Stationery
WALnut 6592-3
Rhodes Building 78 Marietta St.

Anhydrous Ammonia Calcium Chloride
M. & M. Warehouse Company
29 Haynes St., N. W.
Storers and Distributors of Merchandise
Subscriber to Merchandise Warehousing Trade Code
Methyl Chloride Sulphur Dioxide

ATLANTIC URGES EARLY PURCHASE OF WINTER COAL

Present Prices Offer Distinct Saving; Speedy Service Assured on All Summer Orders.

In the heat of the summer, declare officials of the Atlantic Ice and Coal Company, too few coal users give thought to the days of cold discomfort that the fall and winter will bring. Too frequently, they assert, autumn arrives to find home owners totally unprepared to provide for the proper heating of their homes during the winter months.

The wise home owner, they assert, will give thought now—despite the seeming lack of necessity for prompt action—to laying in the winter's coal supplies. Wisdom, they declare, does call for action, from the standpoint of economy, since present summer prices on this all-important commodity offer distinct savings which future months will not guarantee.

The Atlantic Ice and Coal Company, which maintains seven yards in widely separated sections of Atlanta and its suburbs, is prepared to fill orders on short notice from its huge supply of coal of the finest quality. The Atlantic Ice and Coal Company's yards are located at Decatur, Kirkwood, East Point, West End and Brookwood, and on Boulevard and on Thurmond street.

WISDOM USE WOCO PEP
KING OF MOTOR FUEL

"A Favorite in Dixie for over 15 years."
DRIVE IN—
Try a tankful TODAY

Wofford Oil Company
WILEY L. MOORE, President

COAL UP
Summer Prices Are Here

phone your order
MAIN 1900
ATLANTIC ICE & COAL CO

GEO. GRIFFIN, JR. J. O. MANGUM
The Model Laundry
Houston at Jackson. WA. 2372
"There Is No Substitute For Quality"

the flaps STICK!
You'll find it to your advantage to buy envelopes direct from the manufacturer.
ATLANTA ENVELOPE COMPANY
505-7-9-11 Stewart Ave., S. W.
Main 3370

SHARP-BOYLSTON COMPANY REALTORS
Financial Responsibility Business Integrity
Sound Judgment
Plus
Efficient, Courteous, and Conscientious Service
39-41 Forsyth St., N. W.

SOME THINGS THAT LIFE INSURANCE WILL DO FOR THE FAMILY
Strengthens the Family Finances
IN REALITY, every family is a little corporation, doing business with other corporations, big and little, from the largest department store to the humble cobbler 'round the corner. Bankers and business men agree that life insurance is the first investment that any family should make and, therefore, the family that has it, enjoys an enhanced standing in the community.
BUY LIFE INSURANCE NOW.
Aetna Life Insurance Co.—Carson & Dobbins, Gen. Agts.
Mutual Benefit Life Ins. Co.—Newark, N. J.—Robt. L. Foreman, State Agent.
Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Co.—Luther E. Allen, Gen. Agt.
Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co.—Emory L. Jenks, Gen. Agt.
Union Central Life Ins. Co.—Thos. H. Daniel, Gen. Agt.

